CONSOMME A LA ROYALE.

Ingredients.—Two quarts stock, half pound lean beef, half gill cold water, white and shell of one egg, half carrot, half turnip, half onion, bunch herbs, ten peppercorns, mace, two cloves.

Method.—Scrape and chop the meat, and soak in water. Prepare the vegetables. Remove all fat from the stock, and put into stewpan. Add scraped meat, white and shell of egg, and vegetables. Whisk until almost boiling. Allow to simmer gently. Scald a cloth and strain soup. Pour soup through twice.

GARNISH.

One egg, half gill stock, little salt.

Beat up egg with stock. Strain into a cup, cover with greased paper, and steam 15 minutes. When set, cut into small fancy shapes and pour soup over.

POTAGE CRECY.

Ingredients.—Six carrots, two onions, one head celery, four ounces raw ham, two ounces butter, three pints stock, half gill cream, half teaspoonful sugar, two ounces cooked rice, pepper and salt.

Method.—Peel off the red part of the carrots, and put into stewpan with the onions sliced, the celery cut up, and the ham. Add two ounces butter, and simmer for ten minutes. Add two pints stock, and simmer till vegetables are tender. Drain off the stock, pound the carrots, etc., add stock they were cooked in, and one pint more. Strain all. Return to pan, boil, stand by fire to clear from grease. Boil gently fifteen minutes, add cream, sugar and seasoning. Serve with plainly cooked rice or fried croutons of bread.

MAYONNAISE DE SAUMON.

Cold boiled salmon, lettuce, cucumber, beet root, gherkins, capers, boned anchovies, hard-boiled eggs, Mayonnaise Sauce. A mayonnaise of salmon may consist of a large centre-cut, a thick slice or the remains of cold salmon cut into convenient pieces for serving.

In all cases the skin and bone must be removed, and the fish completely masked with thick mayonnaise sauce, the stiffening properties of which are greatly increased by the addition of a little liquid, but nearly cold, aspic jelly. The dish should then be garnished with the salad.

FILETS DE SOLE AUX VIDS.

Puree.—Six potatoes (sieved), two yolks, one ounce melted butter, one sole (filletted), cucumber balls, white sauce.

Sieve the potatoes, roll in balls, coat with egg and vermicelli. Fry in deep fat.

Cut the fillets lengthwise, roll up. Bake in milk. Scoop out centre of balls and place in fillets. Coat with white sauce. Place boiled cucumber balls on top. Sprinkle with corraline pepper and truffle.

GALANTINE DE VEAU.

Ingredients.—A small breast of veal, one and a half or two pounds sausages, two or three rashers of bacon, one hard-boiled egg, glaze, salt, pepper, a grate of nutmeg, ground mace, ground cloves.

Method.—Bone the veal, and flatten it out on the table. Season well with salt and pepper, spread on half the sausage meat in an even layer, distribute narrow strips of bacon and slices of egg over the surface, add mace and nutmeg in very small quantities, and a liberal seasoning salt and pepper. Cover with the remainder of the sausage meat. Roll the meat up tightly, wrap it in a pudding cloth, and boil in stock, well seasoned, for three or three and a half hours. When cooked and nearly cold re-roll in the cloth and press between two boards. Before serving, glaze and garnish with parsley and some coarsely-chopped aspic jelly.

COTELLETS D'AUGEAN EN ASPIC.

There are various ways of preparing this dish. The cutlets may be cooked in butter (sauteed or grilled), or braised and pressed. The former method is, no doubt, more simple, although braising is highly recommended on account of the fine flavour imparted to the meat by this method of cooking.

The cutlets must be carefully pared, trimmed, and flattened before they are cooked, and when cooked they must be pressed beneath a heavy weight, and kept thus until they are quite cold. To finish them, proceed as follows:—

Pour a layer of aspic jelly in a saute pan or large dish. When set, arrange the cutlets in it, cover with another layer of aspic, and let this also set. Place the pan or dish on the ice for about one hour, then cut the cutlets out with a sharp knife, and arrange them in a circle on a round dish. Fill in the centre of the dish with some kind of cooked vegetable—peas, beans, asparagus points, and garnish with neatly-cut cubes of set aspic jelly.

FILETS DE BOEUF A LA PARISIENNE.

Ingredients.—One pound fillets cut in slices and fried or grilled, six grilled or baked mushrooms, half pint tomato sauce, six-eight potato baskets filled with peas.

Method.—Dish the fillets down centre of the dish. Coat with tomato sauce. Place grilled mushrooms on top. Boil and sieve the potatoes, coat with egg and breadcrumbs, shape into baskets, and fry in deep fat. Serve these filled with green peas.

POUDING CHAUD AUX ANANAS.

Ingredients.—Rounds of angelica, rounds of pineapple, quarter pound flour, quarter pound sugar, one and a half ounces ground rice, quarter pound butter, one and a half gills milk, two tablespoonfuls syrup, six yolks, eight whites.

Method.—Decorate a greased and papered mould with pineapple and angelica. Make as a soufflé, and turn into a mould. Steam one and a quarter hours. Serve with sauce round.

AUBOIS SAUCE.

Half pound sugar, one gill water, two yolks, one gill cream, two tablespoonfuls sugar.

Boil sugar to "small thread."

POUDING FROID A LA ST. CLOUD.

Half pint strong coffee, five eggs, two ounces castor sugar, half gill cream, sponge cake, one ounce almonds, half ounce butter, three tablespoonfuls apricot jam, two tablespoonfuls maraschino, Angelica and glacé cherries.

Blanch almonds, peel and shred finely, bake to a fawn colour. Butter a plain charlotte mould. Sprinkle with shredded almonds, and fill up with small pieces of sponge cake. Dissolve the sugar in the coffee, let it cool, beat the eggs, and add them to the cream and the maraschino liquor, mix thoroughly, and strain into mould. Put remainder of shredded almonds on top, cover with buttered paper, and steam two hours. Turn out on a dish. Warm marmalade with water and sugar, mash pudding, and decorate with angelica. Keep on ice till required.

MERINGUES.

To every white of egg allow two ounces castor sugar, sifted. Whisk the whites very stiffly; gradually whisk in the sugar, continue beating till very stiff. Force on to paper with a forcing bag and pipe. Sift castor sugar over. Bake in a moderate over about three hours. When quite cold, scoop out centres and fill with cream, whipped and sweetened, and decorate.

POUDING DIPLOMATIC.

One pint custard, half pint jelly, one ounce gelatine, one and a half ounces cherries, one ounce angelica, two ounces sponge cake, two ounces ratafias, two ounces castor sugar, one gill cream, vanilla, half ounce citron.

Line a plain mould with jelly, and decorate with half ounce cherries and half ounce angelica. Melt the gelatine in one gill water, and stir it into the custard. Add the castor sugar, flavouring and cream. Stir occasionally until cool, then add the rest of the cherries, angelica and citron, all chopped. Pour this gently into the decorated mould. When set, turn out.

COUPE CHANTILLY.

One pound peaches (sieved), one gill custard, one gill cream, sugar, lemon juice, carmine, three whites of eggs, six ounces castor sugar, half pint cream, violets.

Mix fruit and custard, add cream, sugar and lemon juice. Colour slightly. Put into a mould, cover tightly, and put to freeze by packing round with ice. When thoroughly frozen, turn out, sprinkle a few violets over, and serve immediately.

BABY HAWKYARDS.

A Beautiful Virol Child

Mrs. Hawkyards, "Wynterlie," Park View Road, S.E.9, in sending in the above charming photograph of her little daughter states that the little girl was delicate from birth and suffered from chronic digestion trouble, being only half the normal weight when 12 months of age.

At 15 months she commenced a regular diet of Virol and from that time she rapidly gained weight and is now the strong, healthy and beautiful child shown in the photograph, whilst her weight is now up to the normal standard. Mrs. Hawkyards attributes her present robust health in a great measure to Virol.

"Getting thin on top, sir!"

IF your hair is getting thin, don't think it cannot be helped, that it is just a normal consequence of modern worries! Baldness, like all other hair troubles comes from malnutrition of the hair roots, for, like every tissue of the body, the hair derives its nourishment from the blood. If the blood is deficient in the particular elements that build up the hair of the head, the hair roots are starved and the hair cannot grow.

For years scientists have sought some way to restore these elements to the blood. At last they have succeeded in that wonderful Hair Food, Humagsolan. In these simple little tablets, taken pleasantly and palatably with meals, is combined just the nourishment the hair roots need. It is the only scientific means, and already over 2,000 doctors are recommending it enthusiastically. Do not imagine that Humagsolan should only be taken by those who are almost bald. Hair troubles are dangerous things to neglect, and if you have the slightest cause for anxiety you should take Humagsolan now. Go to your chemist to-day for a bottle of Buick—the easiest car to drive.

IT is in the long hours spent at the wheel in touring that the real value of Buick's six cylinders becomes apparent. That astonishing "pick up" after slow running—the extraordinary flexibility—the silkiness of the power output—these are things that no "four" can give.

Buick offers you efficiency that is silent and enduring, power that is swift and certain, braking that is your sure safeguard.

It is good to drive and to ride in. And because the Buick is so good mechanically, it is finished in the celebrated Du Pont Viscolac process that makes it also good to look upon.

NORTHERN IRELAND.

In Praise of Rural Councils.—Speaking at the annual meeting of the Strabane Rural District Council yesterday, Mr. William Rankin, Chairman, said that during the past year the members had got on very agreeably, had done the business to the best of their ability, and had given general satisfaction. That might be their last annual meeting, because Dr. Thompson, of Omagh, had stated in his evidence before the Northern Poor Law Commission that rural district councils and boards of guardians should be abolished. He, the Chairman, thought that these bodies had always done very good work, and had not neglected the ratepayers' interests. The ratepayers would not gain by the abolition of these bodies. Strabane Rural District Council had looked after everything well. The Chairman, and Vice-Chairman, Mrs. Maud Herdman, were re-elected. At a meeting of the Guardians, Sir Emerson Herdman, Messrs. W. B. Smyth and R. Stevenson were re-elected Chairman, Vice-Chairman and Deputy Vice-Chairman, respectively.

Relief for Unemployables. — Portadown Local Employment Committee has passed a resolution, expressing the opinion that it is very desirable, where applicants for benefit are rejected on the grounds that they are unemployed owing to old age or other causes, that there should exist an arrangement whereby the names of those applicants should automatically be forwarded to the Relieving Officers and extended powers given to the Guardians to allow suitable assistance to all deserving cases. The Ministry of Labour has approved the suggestion. Lurgan Guardians discussed the resolution yesterday, and it was decided to consider any names that are sent in to them, each case to be dealt with on its own merits.

Unattended Motor Coaches.—The competition for the conveyance of passengers from Ormeau avenue to Purdysburn on Sunday led to the appearance of two motor coach owners—John Gaston, Templemore avenue, and Samuel Pentland, Magdala street—at the Belfast Summons Court yesterday on charges of leaving the vehicles unattended in Ormeau avenue on the night of Saturday and morning of Sunday. It was stated for the Corporation that it was the practice of the owners of motor coaches to leave them in Ormeau avenue from Saturday night until Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. One man had left his vehicle in this manner and recovered £100 from the Corporation for damage to it during the night. Asked why he had committed the offence, Pentland said that if he did not do it someone else would. Fines of 20s. were imposed in each case.

Bishop in Presbyterian Pulpit.—The Bishop of Derry and Raphoe, the Right Rev. Dr. Peacocke, occupied the pulpit in the First Londonderry Presbyterian Church at the evening Service on Sunday. The Service was attended by 500 men of the "B" Special Constabulary, to whom the Bishop paid a tribute for restoring peace and order in the city. He said that they had carried out their duties very impartially, showing no favour to any side.

Lisburn Fever Hospital. — Belfast Guardians yesterday received a letter from the Committee of Governors of the Lisburn and Hillsborough District Hospital stating that, owing to the number of infectious cases in the district, the Lisburn Fever Hospital was congested. The Committee asked if the Board would receive overflow cases from Lisburn in Belfast Fever Hospital, and, if so, what would be the weekly charge for maintenance and treatment. The Board referred the letter to a committee.

As It Came from the Cow.—Thomas English, grocer, etc., Edward street, Lurgan, was successful at Lurgan Quarter Sessions yesterday in an appeal against a fine of 10s. for selling milk which was alleged to be deficient in milk fats. It was urged that the applicant's cows were well fed, nourished and housed, and that the milk had been sold as it came from the cows.

Appeal Against £50 Betting Fine.—At Lurgan Quarter Sessions yesterday Isaac Tedford appealed against a fine of £50 imposed by the magistrates at Portadown on May 11 last for keeping a house for betting purposes in Woodhouse street, Portadown. Counsel said his client was fined £10 on April 25 for a similar offence. Tedford had now left Portadown altogether, and appealed for a mitigation of the fine. The Judge reduced the amount to £30.

10s. Rent for Council Cottages.—Only one person applied for a tenancy at Strabane Urban District Council at a rent of 10s. a week. At a meeting of the Council a member said that the rents were too high. People who had intended to take the houses were living at present in cottages for which they paid 1s. 6d. a week.

Nautical Apparatus Stolen. — Samuel Johnston, Cosgrove street, Belfast, was sentenced to six months' hard labour yesterday for the theft of a gold bangle, two gold pendants, one seaman's compass, a telescope, a Morse signalling lamp, a Norwegian meerschaum pipe, a nautical rule and other articles belonging to Emily Beresford, Ballyhenry, Carnmoney, Co. Antrim. Evidence was given that the accused man had pawned some of the articles.

Reformatory Maintenance Order.—Brookeborough magistrates yesterday made a order directing W. J. Cook, Creagh, to pay 2s. a week towards the maintenance of his son, Edward, aged 14½, who had been sent to Malone Reformatory until he is 19 for stealing money from his brother.

Pork dropped from 5s. to 8s. a cwt. in Northern markets yesterday, with ample supplies.

The Very Rev. Murtagh McPolin, P.P., V.F., Loughbrickland, has been appointed Dean of Dromore in succession to the late Very Rev. Dean McConville, P.P., V.G., Lurgan.

DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT.

QUEEN'S THEATRE BAR COMMOTION.

A VOLUNTARY DEFENDANT.

(BEFORE MR. CUSSEN.)

Thomas Donnelly, bookmaker, Blackhall Parade; David Doyle, labourer, of Newport street, and William Keating, Manor street, were charged on remand with assault in the Queen's Theatre arising out of some disturbance that occurred there on Thursday night last in connection with the changing of a note tendered by Donnelly.

Thomas Donnelly was now sentenced to a month's imprisonment with hard labour for assaulting a barmaid and also assaulting the police; David Doyle was ordered to find independent bail in £20 to be of good behaviour and keep the peace for twelve months, and William Keating, who, it was stated, struck a police constable with his crutch and then left the bar, where the scene occurred, and escaped arrest at the time, was discharged. It appeared that he had gone to the Police Station in Great Brunswick street and stated that he was the man.

Mr. E. Burne, for the defendants, said they were very sorry for what occurred, which was due to drink. The only fortunate thing about it was that none of them was seriously injured.

WHEAT TRANSACTION CHARGES.

Further evidence was given in the case of Edward Conway (35), dairy proprietor, Spring Garden street; H. Switzer (50), storeman, Merchants' cottages; Thomas Smith (19), motor driver, West road, and Christopher Nangle (22), carter, Coady's cottages, West road, who are charged with stealing about four tons of wheat from the Merchants' Warehousing Company's granary at the East Wall. Conway is also charged with having been illegally in possession during the past six months of about fifty tons of wheat, value £600, which, it was alleged, might be suspected of having been stolen. The other accused were said to have been in the employment of the Warehousing Company.

John M. Heney identified some Manitoba wheat which the police had taken him to see. It was used for making flour and was not ordinarily on the market. He could not trace any purchase from the firm by Conway.

A man named Davis said that about two months ago Conway asked him to sell some wheat on commission. He agreed and sold some at a commission of 1s. per barrel. It was all foreign wheat, and he identified the cheques given him in payment by the buyers.

Accused were further remanded on bail for a week—Conway on bail of £1,000, Switzer £100, and Smith and Nangle £50 each.

MUCH-BURGLED HOUSE.

(BEFORE MR. E. A. COLLINS.)

Four youths, named John Kelly, H. O'Shea, T. Williams, E. Kavanagh, and J. Carr, all of no home and no business, were remanded until next Tuesday on a charge of breaking into Artane House, Artane, Co. Dublin.

A lodge keeper at Artane House stated that on three nights within the past fortnight the house had been entered, coins, clothing and boots being taken away; door panels broken, a curio cabinet damaged and things scattered about.

CHEQUE FROM A LOST BOOK.

Ernest J. Roberts, alias Mills, Wharf road, Fairview, was returned for trial on bail on a charge of stealing a cheque book the property of Mrs. Claffey, Castlerea, and of forging a cheque drawn on the Ulster Bank, Ltd., Castlerea branch, for £5, payable to Charles Mills, Esq., and signed C. H. Coughlan.

Mrs. Claffey stated that on one day in January last she left her purse on a seat in Clarendon street Church. A man entered the seat in front of her, and put his hat on her purse. She removed the hat, and put the purse down beside her. Soon afterwards the man left the church, and later she found that the purse and cheque book were missing.

Detective-Officer O'Neill said that prisoner when arrested denied any knowledge of the matter.

MILK CASES.

For selling milk from which 13.3 per cent. of its fats had been abstracted, Mary Treacy, 118 Townsend street, Dublin, was fined £2 10s. Defendant said that she sold the milk as she received it.

Samuel Burgess, Kilbride, Co. Wicklow, was fined £4 for selling milk to which 5.9 per cent. of water had been added.

Mr. Woodcock, for the defence, said that the milk had not been tampered with.

SAUSAGE SKINS IDENTIFIED.

John Donohoe, sausage case cleaner, was remanded until Monday on a charge of breaking into the Irish Casing Company's store at Arbour Hill and stealing 300 packages of casings value £150, and selling them to Mr. Cosgrave, pork butcher, Ranelagh, for £70.

Mr. Cosgrave said that he had bought 140 bundles of skins from Donohoe, with whom he had had previous transactions.

Mr. Best, owner of the store, identified the casings as his property.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

RAILWAYS AND ROADS.

LETTER FROM MR. JOHNSTON, F.T.C.D.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I accept the view expressed by "Artifex" in your issue of to-day that the transport problem, as a whole, is one problem. A comprehensive solution of it will require more statistical data than are at present in my possession. Meanwhile, the railway problem is urgent.

The bulk of our traffic of all descriptions is carried by the railways and will continue to be carried by the railways. No modern community can exist without them. The subsidised competition of long-distance heavy motor traffic will merely cripple our railways and destroy our roads. To create new long-distance arteries for road traffic at immense expense while the existing railway arteries are threatened with anæmia would be economic folly.

Heavy road motors are at present conveying traffic of all descriptions from Tipperary to Dublin and back. Railway interests have a right to say to the State: "Either stop subsidising this heavy long-distance motor traffic or subsidise us." One method of putting an end to the subsidy, which at present in fact exists, would be to impose a tax of about £2,000 a year on the five-ton lorry. Competition between road and railway would then be on an equal basis, and the railway, being the more economical form of transport for heavy goods over long distances, would get all this traffic once more.

There are serious objections to this roundabout method of removing the subsidy. It is better simply to prohibit lorries over a certain weight from passing over certain roads, and to confine heavy motor traffic to the neighbourhood of towns and industrial centres.

The tax paid by all commercial motor vehicles ought probably to be increased substantially. There is, however, no objection in principle to subsidising motor transport, so long as it does not react unfairly on other transport interests. The community may prefer to pay partly as ratepayers and taxpayers, rather than as users of motor transport, for the convenience of being able to travel by 'bus from Dublin to Enniskerry. As a practical policy, with reference to short distance traffic in goods and passengers in the neighbourhood of cities and towns, it is, perhaps, wiser not to tax the motor vehicle to the full extent of the damage it does to the roads, but to leave it still in the enjoyment of a substantial subsidy. Heavy, long-distance motor transport ought not to receive any such encouragement.

The transport problem, as a whole, is one, but the railways are the most important part of the transport system. Nothing can be regarded as a solution which seems likely to impair the efficiency of the railways or is an obvious injustice to railway shareholders and workers.—Yours, etc.,

SCHOOL MANAGERS AND THE STATE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I would like to get some information as to the position of managers of national schools in the Irish Free State. Have the rules of the former Commissioners been discarded? Rule 40 (d) provided that the manager should conduct the necessary correspondence with the Commissioners. I have recently had occasion to write to the Education Office concerning the appointment of a teacher. I received no reply. I wrote again explaining that the matter was one of extreme urgency and up to the present I have not been favoured with an answer. Over a year ago I wrote on behalf of a teacher about arrears of capitation. The receipt of my letter was not even acknowledged. I wrote again on the same matter some months ago, and still no reply. I have heard the same complaint from many managers; therefore, my case cannot be absolutely unique.

It is surely not too much to expect that the ordinary courtesy usually observed in correspondence be extended to the managers of schools. I am supposed to be manager of two Church of Ireland schools in a populous district. Many matters concerning the working of these schools have got to lie in abeyance owing to the impossibility of getting information or advice. What I am anxious to know is: Does the esprit de corps of the old educational authority still exist, or has the system of school government altered?

My association with teachers has extended over a long period, and in my position as manager, the teacher has always been my valued help and friend. The teacher always found the manager a "definite power" where matters required to be arranged between the teacher and the National Board. This was due to the fact that the National Board recognised the manager as being their "trusted representative" and point of contact with the teacher. His position was always upheld by the authorities, and that position was in almost every case respected. Now what is the state of affairs? The teacher finds the manager absolutely ignored, except in the matter of signing salary claims, etc., and practically every attempt to further the interests of the teacher is met by an embarassing and discourteous silence. It has been so at least in the cases I mention. I got one immediate reply—when I appointed a junior assistant mistress—to the effect that she was not sufficiently qualified and could not be recognised.

As citizens we are anxious to support the State in every reasonable enterprise. The first principle of statecraft is education. As managers, our work is purely voluntary, and it occupies a considerable amount of time. Schools have to be built and kept in repair. Heating and cleaning (assisted by a small grant) and repainting, together with insurance of teachers and scholars, and also school equipment, all devolve on the manager. He is the responsible local authority for the carrying on of education among the young. Since this education is the greatest duty to the State, it is surely the first object of the State to support the manager in his duty.

Unless this support is forthcoming, every vestige of discipline in our educational system will disappear. Teachers know it and feel the need of some "local influence" to support them in their work. This influence, which they have always had in the manager, was always at their disposal and seldom abused. We require no public monument or Order of Merit to proclaim our humble efforts, but we at least claim that courtesy and sympathy which will re-establish authority, and give a reasonable chance both to teacher and manager in their work for the State.—Yours, etc.,

THE SHANNON SCHEME.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—It may be out of place to discuss an important item under discussion in the supreme councils of the Irish Free State, but I should like to know what proportion of the ultimate cost of the Shannon scheme is likely to remain in Ireland. The present estimated cost is not likely to be the ultimate cost. Would it be wild-cat to say that the ultimate cost will reach £20,000,000, or that of such an amount three-fourths will leave Ireland? What volume of business would require to be done to meet interest charges on money advanced, to pay for the upkeep of the property and to give a profit of, say, one per cent. on money lent for the project?

I know that a lot of figures have been totted on the Shannon scheme, but I get confused by many of these. Before being absolutely committed, it would be well to know how much of the cost workmen of Irish birth are likely to get out of the wages bill and how much money will remain in Ireland after the last penny of the contract has been paid. The commitments of the project seem to be heavy; the working out of the scheme may be heavier and the ultimate burden heaviest of all. Is Ireland to be placed under a yoke of commercial enterprise that may prove a burden too grievous to be borne?—Yours, etc.,

JAMES COLHOUN.

The Manse, Castlebellingham,
June 1st, 1925.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Your article in the paper of the 28th May seems to me quite excellent. Colonel McCabe assumes that cheap electricity can be produced by the Shannon scheme. Has cheap electricity ever been produced from a river that has not a considerable natural fall? If the scheme be an unsound one, as I believe, cadit quæstio as to employment and everything else.—Yours, etc.,

SECONDARY TEACHERS' GRANTS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I regret that it is necessary to protest once more against the methods employed in the payment of increment grant to secondary teachers. The money necessary for the payment of grant for the half-year ended 31st January last was passed by the Dail three months ago, and yet several teachers entitled to share in the grant have received no payment. In fact, payment may be withheld for several weeks yet, so far as any explanation of the delay has been vouchsafed.

The third quarter of the school year ended on April 30th. Claim forms, distributed in May, were promptly filled in and returned by the teachers. Yet, so far as we are aware, not a single payment has been made, although, in the vast majority of cases, payment for this quarter follows automatically on the previous payments. We know of no reason why this grant should not be distributed promptly, and the situation is now all the more urgent in view of the fact that very many teachers, who will superintend the annual examinations, are due to leave their schools before the middle of June. A serious effort should be made to have all the third quarter's payments made within the next week.

The fourth quarter nominally expires on July 31st. Practically every school will have closed down by the middle of June, and certainly before the end of June, and to hold up payment until August will constitute a hardship on many teachers. A further difficulty arises by reason of the fact that teachers will have dispersed and cannot readily obtain the necessary information and signatures required for the claim forms. Accordingly, it seems only fair to ask that the Department of Education should now arrange—(a) to expedite all payments due now; (b) to send fourth-quarter forms to teachers before their schools close; (c) to make the fourth-quarter payments early in July.—Yours, etc.,

T. J. BURKE,
General Secretary, Association of Secondary Teachers, Ireland.

TINKERS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—"Celtic" in his letter on tinkers deserves the gratitude of country-dwellers, especially of the farmers, in calling the attention of the Government to the growing evil of these wandering bands. They keep to the by-roads and so escape notice. They do considerable damage; they break down fences and graze their ill-treated animals during the night on the farmers' best meadows. These tramps are disease-carriers, as are their animals; and, although immune themselves, they often infect districts by going from house to house.—Yours, etc.,

A ROAD OBSTRUCTION.

MOTOR CAR DAMAGED.

Judge Wakely, sitting in Roscommon, adjourned a case, to enable a settlement to be made, in which Maurice Stanton, junior, Castlerea, sued the Roscommon County Council and Patrick Diffley, a contractor, for damage to his motor car.

The plaintiff's case was that while he was driving from Dublin to Castlerea at night he ran into a girder placed on two boxes across the road, and the mudguard and one of the lamps on his car were broken.

The case for the County Council was that notice had been published that the road was closed during the repair of a road-bridge on the road some distance away. They submitted that the contractor was responsible for the lighting of the obstruction.

The contractor's case was that he put the girder and a warning notice there by instructions. He believed that he was responsible for the lighting of the bridge, but not of the obstruction.

Judge Wakely said that he was disposed to give a decree, but adjourned the case for the County Council to settle with the plaintiff.

LUCAN 'BUS CONDUCTOR'S DEATH.

An accident on the road to Lucan was described at the inquest yesterday on Patrick O'Toole, aged 28, of Leixlip, Co. Kildare, who died at Steevens' Hospital, Dublin last Sunday after being brought in suffering from severe injuries. The bulk of the evidence was given by persons who were passengers on that night in a char-a-banc which came along behind a motor 'bus, from which O'Toole alighted at Conyngham road. O'Toole was getting off the 'bus in order to board another 'bus which was approaching from the opposite direction, and on which he was due to act as conductor. It was stated that it was the approach of the second 'bus that caused the driver of the char-a-banc to turn his vehicle in to the left, with the result that O'Toole was struck.

The jury decided that there was not sufficient evidence on which they could fix responsibility for the accident.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND NOTES.

LONDON STOCKS QUIET

FEW PRICE CHANGES.

The London Stock Markets re-opened with a fairly cheerful tone after the holiday, but in the majority of sections little alterations were shown in prices. The Rubber market, however, was an exception, the strength of the commodity causing a rise in shares. A firm tone was evident in British Funds at the opening, but they hesitated later, the volume of business not coming up to expectations, and final prices were much the same as before.

Among Foreign Government Stocks French Fives were weaker owing to a further decline in the franc, the final figure being ½ lower at 16 x.d. The Fours, however, were held at 12¼. Reconstruction Loans were steady and without alteration.

RAILS STEADY.

Little change was shown in Home Railway Ord. Stocks, but Pref. issues were generally lower. Great Western Cons. Pref. shed a point to 97½. North-Eastern 4 p.c. 1st and 2nd Prefs. lost 1½ points and a point respectively. Southerns were steady and unchanged, as were Undergrounds and Metropolitans.

Colonial and Foreign Rails were quiet and steady. Argentines closed at previous quotations, while, with the exception of the 2nd Pref., which dropped ½, Cordoba Centrals were also unchanged. Leopoldina gained ½ to 31½, but Mexicans were repeated.

RUBBER SHARES FIRM.

A fair amount of business was transacted in the Rubber share market yesterday, while a firm tone was manifest. Price changes were fairly numerous, and, while a few issues finished the day at a slightly lower level, the majority of alterations were in favour of holders. Anglo-Dutch gained 10½d. and Anglo-Malay 1s. 7½d., while Bah Lias and Batu Tiga were 1s. 1½d. and 1s. 6d. better respectively. Malacca were a firm market, closing 2s. 9d. higher at 49s. Rubber Trust put on 7½d. to 38s. 10½d. c.d. United Sua Betong were a firm spot, the final price being 2s. 4½d. up, and the New shares touched 7s. 6d. pm., or 1s. higher than the week-end level. The price of raw rubber rose to 3s. 1d. per lb.

OIL SHARES SMALL.

Little of interest was provided by the Oil Share market yesterday, business in the leaders and speculative favourites alike being small. Prices generally fluctuated within narrow limits, and the movements finally recorded were of an irregular character. In view of the interest in British Controlled Shares, the production and shipment figures of the company for the week ended May 27 are of importance. The company's production amounted to 44,000 barrels, which compares with 46,500 barrels for the preceding week. Shipments are bound to fluctuate as tankers become available. Thus we find that last week there was shipped 8,750 tons of oil, as against 4,500 tons in the week ended May 20. British Controlled Shares, in common with other favourites, met with only a moderate amount of attention, and finally showed a decline.

TEA SHARES QUIET.

A quiet tendency prevailed in the Tea share market, business being on an exceptionally small scale. A slightly firmer tone became evident later, however, and at the close price movements were generally in favour of holders. Budla Beta were a good market at an advance of 1/16, while Halem improved to 66s. 3d., or 2s. 6d. above the week-end figure. Majuli at 77s. were 2s. better. Amalgamated Estates, on the other hand, dropped ¼ to 38¾, while Consolidated Tea and Lands finished 1/16 easier at 31 1/16.

INDUSTRIALS.

Although exhibiting a steadier tendency than at the close of last week, there was no increase in the volume of trading in the Miscellaneous and Industrial markets yesterday. Features, however, were not lacking. Dealings began in Sanders Bros. Ord. and Prefs. at round 2s. discount, but the price closed rather better at 1s. 9d. discount. Grouts provided a feature among Silk shares, a renewed demand raising the price ¼ to 2⅞. Courtaulds were wanted on dividend anticipations and rallied to 98s., though Celanese shed 3d. to 7s. 10½d. Little of interest transpired in Textiles, which lacked support. Bradford Dyers eased to 79s. 3d. and Amalgamated Cottons to 8s. 10½d. Stores descriptions did not move. Iron, Coal and Steels mostly remained quietly firm. About the only quotable alteration in the Shipping section was a fall of 1 in Royal Mails to 97½. Fresh selling, owing to fears concerning the forthcoming report, resulted in another setback in Liptons to 19s. 6d., or 1s. down, though the 5 p.c. Prefs. strengthened to 16s., a rise of 6d. Foodstuffs kept firm, with Home and Colonials registering a slight recovery at 3⅞. Business in Breweries was on a small scale. South Africans closed fractionally better at 2¼, but Benskins Prefs. came on offer and gave way ⅛ to 3⅛. Imperials provided the feature among Tobaccos, some good buying carrying the price to 98s. 9d. at one time, though they finished under the best, but 1s. up on the day at 98s. 6d. B.A.T. remained firm at 117s., and Cope Bros. displayed strength at 3⅜; R. and J. Hills rose 1/16 to 3 1/16, and United (South) 6d. to 90s. 6d. Among miscellaneous trading descriptions Dunlops received support, to which they responded by rising to 15s. 7½d., or 4½d. better on balance, a large business being recorded. United Premier Oil Cakes were 1s. higher at 16s., though British were not so good at 28s. 3d. Nobel Prefs. stiffened to 22s., but the Defd. eased to 9s. 10½d. Swedish Match shares continued in request and rose to 10⅞. Apart from Allied Ord., which exhibited strength at 31s., Newspaper shares did not move. Bank shares generally kept up. Insurances displayed a harder tendency. The Wireless group was fairly steady, though Marconi Marines came on offer and dropped 9d. to 20s. 6d. Motors exhibited firmness, especially Austin issues, the 7 p.c. Prefs. rising to 16s. 9d., the "B" to 12s. 9d., and the Debs. to 94½. Wolsey Debs. further advanced to 64s. Napiers found support, which left them 6d. higher at 30s. In recent issues, F. McNeill Prefs. came into demand and rose to 6d. prem. Niger Debs. improved to ⅞ discount.

COMPANY MEETING.

THE CELTIC INSURANCE COMPANY, LIMITED.

The Annual General Meeting of the above Company was held on Thursday last at their Registered Offices, No. 3 College Green, Dublin, when the Accounts, audited by Craig, Gardner and Company, were submitted by the Chairman, Sir Maurice E. Dockrell, showing an income of nearly £20,000, with a balance carried forward in the Profit and Loss account of £5,725 19s. 9d., as against that brought forward of £4,065 13s. 8d., and Funds (excluding capital) exceeding 80 p.c. of income. In presenting them the Chairman said:—

"It affords me great pleasure to recall the fact that this is our Jubilee Year, the 50th year of the Hibernian Plate Glass Insurance Company. Inaugurated in 1875 under the title of the Hibernian Plate Glass Insurance Company, it was formed by prominent Dublin Glass Merchants, with a view to assuring immediate replacement of broken glass in business premises or private houses. It immediately secured a large measure of success. The founders included familiar Dublin names—John and Thomas Sibthorpe, Thomas and Maurice Dockrell, John Brooks, brother of the late Maurice Brooks, M.P. for Dublin. The inclusion of these names, so long and intimately associated with the glass trade, was a guarantee to the public that when a breakage occurred immediate replacement would be made from the large stocks of plate and other glass held by them as glass merchants.

"Twenty-six years later these same gentlemen guiding the fortunes of the "Hibernian" decided to enter the realm of Accident Insurance, and under the title of the Irish Vehicle Owners' Accident Company, a company was formed having power to deal with every class of Accident Insurance. To this new venture there was given a large amount of public support, and in 1912 the Celtic Insurance Company was acquired; a Company which had been established in Dublin in 1907, and had been carrying on Fire and Accident business. It became evident that the business of these three Companies could be more effectively carried on under one management, and under the title of the Celtic Insurance Company, Limited, especially as the 'Celtic' had taken full power to transact every class of insurance business. Accordingly, we meet to-day after 50 years of successful management, and under practically the same directorate, with ample capital and resources for conducting every class of Insurance business.

"You can readily imagine the satisfaction which it gives to me and to Mr. John Sibthorpe, the two surviving founders of the original Company formed fifty years ago, to meet you here to-day as members of a successful Irish Insurance business. We have associated with us Mr. Frank Warnock, Managing Director of Messrs. Brooks, Thomas and Co., and successor to the late Mr. John Brooks, one of the original founders; Mr. James M. Carroll, of Dundalk, the well-known tobacco manufacturer; also Mr. Edmund Russborough Turton, M.P., Russborough, Blessington, and Mr. Edwin Gray, both gentlemen of high standing and great Insurance experience."

The Accounts, which were considered most satisfactory, were adopted, and the retiring Directors, Sir Maurice E. Dockrell, and Mr. Edmund Russborough Turton, were re-elected, as well as the Auditors, Messrs. Craig, Gardner and Co., who, it was remarked, have occupied that position for the last 50 years.

A cordial vote of thanks to the Chairman, Directors and Staff concluded the proceedings.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

DUTCH TOBACCO SALES.

In the first seven tobacco sales held at Amsterdam the Deli Maatschappy sold about 47,870 bales at an average of 412 cents per half kilo, against 45,232 bales at 476 cents last year. The corresponding figures of the Deli Batavia are 25,557 bales at 277 cents, against 23,234 bales at 323 cents; Senembah, 23,342 bales at 449 cents, against 25,125 bales at 267 cents.

WALLER AND SON.

The shareholders of Waller and Son, one of the most important breweries in the West Riding of Yorkshire, have been summoned to a meeting to confirm the action of the directors, who have signed a contract of sale with a London syndicate. Waller and Son own a large number of licensed houses in the districts of Bradford, Leeds, Halifax, Brighouse and the Spen Valley. The authorised and issued capital (as reduced) is £70,000, divided into 35,000 7 per Cent. Cumulative Preference and 35,000 Ordinary Shares of £1 each, with 10s. paid.

CANADA MARCONI.

Mr. Charles G. Greenshields has resigned the presidency of the board of directors of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of Canada, and Mr. G. M. Bosworth has resigned his directorate. Dr. Milton L. Hersey becomes the new president, and Mr. H. M. Short general manager and managing director.

A CONVERSION LOSS.

Experience has shown that in the past quite a number of holders of National War Bonds have failed to exercise their rights to convert into 5 per Cent. War Loan, 1929-1947, and have thereby lost a substantial profit, says the Evening Standard. We, therefore, remind holders of the 5 per Cent. National War Bonds, which fall due on September 1 next, that their last opportunity has arrived. Within fourteen days after June 1 they can exchange their Bonds for 5 per Cent. War Loan at the rate of £100 of War Loan for each £95 nominal of Bonds. Any Bonds not so converted will be paid off on September 1 next at 103 per cent. At present the Bonds are worth 105, with War Loan around par, but as soon as the conversion option expires they will automatically fall to about their redemption price of 103. Those holders who omit to convert, therefore, will have a clear loss of £2 per cent.

THE BRAZILIAN EXCHANGE.

From the remarks of the Chairman at a recent meeting of the Banco de Brasil it is evident that considerable effort is being made to stabilise Brazilian exchange. Last year was a difficult one for the country owing to the virtual cessation for a time of trade owing to the revolt in San Paulo and neighbouring States. This meant a reduction in exports and a corresponding reaction on the exchange rate. Then followed a fall in coffee and other prices in January last. It is now stated that the retirement of emergency currency is to be brought about, and this, together with a resumption of coffee exports, should bring about a recovery in the value of milreis. The Government Bonds are very sensitive to the exchange, and, in view of the above causes, are now well below the higher levels reached last year.

BUENOS AYRES CENTRAL.

The reduced market quotations now prevailing are delaying the shipments of wheat and maize from the Argentine, but in spite of this the Buenos Ayres Central Railway continues to show satisfactory receipts. An improvement amounting to £60,000 for the first half of the current financial year has already been reported, and this figure will be increased in the final returns, which are due to appear at the end of June. The prospects of this railway are excellent, for the line serves prosperous agricultural districts.

BIG ARGENTINE LOAN.

An Argentine refunding loan of $45,000,000, bearing interest at 6 per cent., which was offered by Messrs. Morgan in New York yesterday morning, was over-subscribed within an hour.

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS.

ALIANZA COMPANY.—Final dividend of 20 per cent., making 40 per cent. for year, carrying forward £179,230.

BURMAH OIL CO.—The full report of the Burmah Oil Co. has been issued. Profits and allocations are as stated in the preliminary announcement on May 20. In the supplementary remarks the directors state that crude oil produced and transported by pipe line in Burma somewhat exceeded the record volume of 1923. As special provision against the increasing cost of drilling the deeper wells now necessary, particularly in the Yenangyaung field, the directors have considered it advisable to create a field's expenditure equalisation reserve account, to which £150,000 has been transferred. Operations continued on outside areas both in Burma and in India with results in one or two cases so far supporting the geological opinion on which they were undertaken, but in none to the extent of striking oil in commercial quantities or to depths beyond which commercial oil possibilities can be ruled out, and drilling is being continued. The results from the Badarpur field in Lower Assam are still disappointing. Refineries dealt with practically the same volume of crude as in 1923. Reconstruction and concentration, which progressed satisfactorily, will, it is anticipated, be completed in 1926. As it is, advantages and economies already being reaped were reflected in lower refining losses and fuel consumption. The company's fleet ran uninterruptedly during the year. In the case of practically every one of the company's manufactures increased production was recorded and went steadily into consumption, mainly in India, at, on the whole, remunerative prices.

BRITISH ELECTRIC TRACTION CO., Ltd.—Dividend of 6 per cent. for the year upon the Cumulative Participating Preference stock—on account of which 3 per cent. has already been paid—and a dividend of 7 per cent. for the year upon the Ordinary stock—on account of which 2 per cent. has already been paid.

BOOTS DRUG COMPANY.—The report of Boots Pure Drug Company for the year ended 31st March last shows a net profit of £654,837—an increase of £26,217 compared with 1923-4. The directors recommend that the last interim dividend paid in March shall be a final dividend, making 36 per cent., less tax, for the year, the same rate as before.

BRITISH TOBACCO COMPANY, AUSTRALIA.—Interim dividend of 3 per cent.

BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA.—Dividend of 4 per cent. for quarter ending June 30, 1925.

BRITISH INDIAN TEA.—Final dividend of 35 per cent., less tax, on Ord. Shares for the year ended April 30, 1925.

CANADIAN CAR AND FOUNDRY COMPANY (MONTREAL).—Dividend of 1¾ per cent. on the paid-up Pref. Stock for the quarter ending June 30 declared.

CHARBIEH LAND (CAIRO).—Dividend for the year ended February 28, 1925, at the rate of Egyptian piastres 8, about 1/8 per share.

DON FISHING.—Dividend of 2½ per cent., less tax.

GOLDSBROUGH MORTGAGE AND TRUST.—Bonus of 5 per cent., in addition to a dividend at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum, making 15 per cent. for the year. The directors propose to ask the shareholders to give authority to increase the capital by 250,000 £1 new shares, their intention being to offer these to shareholders at 35/- per share in the proportion of one for every six held.

HUDSON'S BAY CO.—Final distribution for the year of 5 per cent. in respect of trade and a bonus of 5 per cent. With the addition of the interim dividend of 10 per cent. paid in January last the total distribution from trade for the year ended May 31, 1925, will be 20 per cent. There will be no dividend in respect of the land department. The dividend on the 5 per cent. Cum. Pref. Shares will be paid on July 1, 1925. A refund of Dominion income tax, amounting to £41,250, also, will be made. The last item will be adjusted by reducing the English tax on the final dividend, payable July 1, to 2/11 in the £ on Ord. Shares, and to 2/10 in the £ on Pref. Shares. The distribution of 20 per cent. last year, as now, was paid entirely out of trade profits, nothing being paid from profits of the land department. For 1922-23 the total payment was 19½ per cent., and for 1921-22 45 per cent.

KINGSLEY AND THACKERAY HOTELS.—Dividend of 10 per cent., plus bonus of 10 per cent.

SUNGEI RINCHING RUBBER.—Dividend of 5 per cent. in respect of the year ending 31st December, 1924, less tax.

SPICERS.—Final dividend on Ord. Shares, making 4 per cent. for the year.

STEVENSON AND HOWELL.—Final dividend of 15 per cent., making 20 per cent., tax free.

TRUST AND LOAN COMPANY OF CANADA.—Dividend at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum for the six months ended 31st March, 1925, free of tax, on the paid-up capital, making 6 per cent. for the year ended 31st March, 1925.

TANAH DATAR RUBBER.—Dividend of 8 per cent.

WITAN INVESTMENT.—It is proposed that in future dividend on Ord. Stock should be paid less tax, and the directors recommend that the dividend for the current year be at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum, less tax.

WAVERLEY PLANTATIONS.—Dividend at 10 per cent. per annum, less tax, including interim dividend.

LONDON MINING MARKET STEADY.

CHARTERED PERSISTENTLY BOUGHT.

In the Mining market the story all round was one of indifference, but, despite the absence of demand, there was nowhere any real weakness observable. Paris was doing very little, and the Cape was not keenly interested, so that even the Platinum descriptions were inclined to droop, T.C.L., Transvaal Devels., and S.A. Townships all closing lower. Hendies "Plats" were an exception, a good demand lifting the price smartly, while Hendersons and Oceana held their ground. In the Rhodesian section Chartered continued to attract a good deal of attention, and persistent buying was in progress. Tanks and Zams were also in favour and higher, and B'wana 'Mkubwa were being quietly picked up. Selukwe were a dull spot. Of the Diamonds, De Beers Pref. were again bought for investment, and registered a sharp gain, but the Def. were easier. The price of tin was slightly lower at £250 12s. 6d. per ton, and the share market was far from active. Southern Perak were also wanted, on the announcement of a further interim dividend of 1s. 6d. per share, making 6s. so far this year. Coppers were mostly idle, but Mount Lyell hardened. Rio Tinto remained at the previous level. Closing prices:—

THE MONEY MARKET.

WAR LOAN DIVIDENDS.

There was a large turnover of cash yesterday, mainly owing to the disbursement of the War Loans dividends amounting to about £50,000,000, while other payments totalled some £6,250,000. Against these there were calls on National Bank of New Zealand shares and other issues amounting to £1,100,000. Despite the above disbursements money was somewhat patchy owing to the fact that the banks were calling in two days' balances instead of one. The fairly large amount due to the Bank was paid off, but subsequently a further small sum was re-borrowed for a week at 5½ p.c. The discount market was steady, fine three months' bills being quoted 4⅞-4⅜ p.c., while the new Treasuries were dealt in at 4¼-4⅞ p.c. During the early hours 5 p.c. and over was occasionally paid for short loans, but the usual charge later on was 3½ to 3⅞ p.c. Weekly fixtures were continued at 3⅞ p.c.

Silver rose ⅛d. an ounce to 31⅜d. for spot and 31 11/16d. for forward delivery on China buying.

Gold remained at 84s. 11½d. per fine oz. The Bank of England announced the export of £20,000 in sovereigns to South America, also that £50,000 in sovereigns had been set aside on account of the Commonwealth Bank of Australia

A severe depreciation of some of the leading European currencies was the main feature of the Foreign Exchanges. The French rate touched 98.60, marking a new high record since the spring of last year, and the closing figure of 98.20 showed a movement for the day adverse to France of 1½ francs to 100⅞, having been over 101. Italian lire were worse again at over 122⅞, and there was a rather sharp decline in the sterling value of Norwegian and Danish kroner. Greek drachmae, too, were much worse, and Spain and Turkey moved in our favour. Swiss francs were decidedly better, the rate receding to 25.08, and there was a nominal movement in the currencies of Roumania and Yugo-Slavia. The American exchanges finished at 4.86, showing a further slight movement against us. Argentine and Uruguayan dollars were cheaper, but the Brazilian milreis was fairly steady, and the Chilian peso showed a slight improvement. Among Eastern exchange rates the Japanese yen declined ⅛d. to 1s. 8⅛d.

I have never been inside what is known as the "editorial sanctum."—Mr. Birrell.

I have been told by many people that they were in favour of birth control, but did not want it for the working classes, because where were the soldiers to come from?—Mrs.

PRODUCE AND FOOD.

CATTLE.

LEEDS.—Smaller supplies. Beasts, numbering 582, made from 1/- for prime heifers and bullocks down to 9d. for fat cows and bulls. Sheep, numbering over 1,600, made from 1/6½ for choice small sheep to 7d. for tups. Lambs sold at 1/10 per lb.

MANCHESTER PIG.—Shipments from Ireland for week ending May 16th show a sharp decline, totalling 388, against 800 the previous week and 2,364 the corresponding period last year. Holiday market with short supplies, owing to loading difficulties. Prices about unchanged. Average price for first quality porkers officially returned at 12/6, baconers 11/10, sows 8/6 per stone.

BIRMINGHAM.—Small to fair arrivals of pigs, and business on moderate scale. Values fairly steady. Sizeable bacons unchanged at 17/- per score dead weight; cutters a slight easement, 16/- to 16/6, and sows 12/-, unaltered.

CAMBRIDGE.—Beasts, 37; beef (largest), 12/-, small 12/-. Sheep, 315; mutton 11/6. Pigs 501, pork 13/-; calves 39. Quite a holiday market both in attendance and supplies. Fat cattle—Only a few to hand, and rates very slightly lower. No store beasts offered. Fat sheep and lamb a fair show, and sold at last week's rates. Fat pigs—Not so many to hand, and a good trade all round; store pigs in fair demand.

SALFORD.—On offer 698 beasts (decrease 160), sheep and lambs 7,135 (decrease (1,189), calves 4. Decreased supply of beasts, mainly Welsh and Irish, but in sheep was confined mainly to North country descriptions. Irish lambs numbered 455. Difficulties of railway transport, owing to holidays, was responsible for falling off in numbers. General quotations—Best butchers' beasts 1/0½, Irish 10½d. to 11½d., good fat young cows 9d. to 10½d.; small North country clipped sheep 1/6¼, heavy up to 1/5, Welsh lamb 1/8 to 1/9, South country 1/7 to 1/8 per lb. Cows suitable for dairy purposes numbered 57, and were quoted £22 to £28 per head.

GRAIN.

FLOATING GRAIN CARGOES.—BALTIC.—WHEAT—A dull tone pervaded the floating and forward cargo section, the market being more or less under holiday influences, and with some pressure to sell prices were nominally 1/- per quarter lower. White Pacific September-October 57/3. No. 1 Northern Manitoba June 69/9, Victorian afloat 60/6, West Australian do. 61/3, Rosafe (63½lbs.) June 63/3. LIVERPOOL.—The weakness in America and the Argentine was reflected here, and forward deliveries of WHEAT gave way considerably during early trading, but a moderate recovery afterwards took place on sellers showing more reserve. Afternoon cables, however, brought about a sharp decline, and final prices marked a heavy loss from Saturday's final prices. C.i.f. parcels No. 3 Manitoba June sold at 62/9, No. 4 59/3, No. 2 hard winter afloat 62/6 to Liverpool, and No. 2 Manitoba June at 64/6 to Manchester. C.i.f. parcels MAIZE neglected and nominal. Wheat on the spot dull at lower prices. Maize spot parcels steady, with a moderate inquiry at late rates of 9/10 to 9/10½ per cental for River Plate and Australian. FLOUR steady, but quiet and unaltered. Graded wheat futures opened 2d. to 2½d. per cental lower, then recovered somewhat and fluctuated moderately, but gave way late in the afternoon, the market closing easy at 3½d. to 3¾d. decline on the day. Maize options neglected and nominal.

PROMPT MEASURES IN IRELAND.

OBSERVANCE OF VACCINATIO[N] REQUIREMINTS.

A home for infirm old people in Waterf[ord] where the Rosary is still said every night [since] Henry VIII., in whose reign it was found[ed,] was cited by Sir Joseph Glynn at the sitt[ing] of the Poor Law Commission at Governm[ent] Buildings, Dublin, yesterday, when the [case] of the aged and infirm in county infirmaries [was] under discussion.

Dr. E. F. Stephenson, Chief Med[ical] Inspector, Local Government Departm[ent,] gave evidence. Dealing with hospital acc[om]modation and equipment in the county [and] district hospitals under the Department [of] Local Government, he said that the idea [of] amalgamation was centralisation. Cou[nty] hospitals were fully equipped and contai[ned] X-ray and other up-to-date equipment. [Pro]vision was made for the treatment of pay [patients]. Now that they had taken o[ver] county infirmaries, it was necessary to m[ake] arrangements for people who were able [to] pay.

Their great aim was to provide suita[ble] treatment for the sick poor. When th[ey] asked ratepayers to contribute towards [the] treatment in county hospitals they sho[uld] give proper treatment in the county hospita[ls.] The minimum qualifications required for [a] medical officer of a county hospital were th[ree] years' regular practice in his profession, [as] regards surgeons, their aim was to emp[loy] full-time men for the county hospitals [in] which there was sufficient work. The us[ual] salary was £500 a year, with free reside[nce] and the right to accept fees from cert[ain] patients in the hospital. The idea was t[hat] if the beds were not required for poor patie[nts] they could be used for paying patients; [but] the first claim to these beds was by the po[or] except in very urgent cases, such as [ap]pendicitis. The whole-time medical officers [of] county hospitals were prevented from tak[ing] outside practice except as consultants. [The] qualification for a matron was that she sho[uld] be a trained nurse.

Questioned by the Chairman whether [he] thought that poor people should have hospi[tals] available within a radius of eight or [ten] miles, the witness replied that he did not.

The Chairman said that none of the hosp[ital] schemes provided accommodation within s[uch] limited areas.

The witness said that motor service [had] facilitated the transfer of patients.

The Chairman—Your Department hav[e] sanctioned these schemes, do you think t[hat] the hospital accommodation is sufficient [in] every case?

Witness—Well, not in every case. [He] instanced County Galway as needing m[ore] accommodation.

The Chairman—Has the Medical Chari[ties] Act tended to give the poor a good med[ical] service?

Dr. Stephenson—Undoubtedly.

CO. WEXFORD DEFAULTERS.

As regards vaccination, the witness s[aid] that their vaccine department was a v[ery] good one, and every tube of lymph was te[sted] three times before being issued to the pub[lic.] At present vaccination was very well enfor[ced] except in County Wexford and some port[ions] of Donegal.

To Mrs. Wyse Power, the witness said t[hat] in recent years on eleven occasions case[s of] smallpox found their way into this coun[try,] but our public health service was so g[ood] that it never spread outside the houses. T[hey] were equally vigilant all the time. T[here] was smallpox running all over England.

As regards imbecile children, the Chair[man] said that provision for Protestants was m[ade] in the Stewart Institution. There was [no] such provision for Catholic children.

Sir Joseph Glynn said that although [the] Stewart Institution had a Protestant foun[dation,] it was not confined to Protestants; [they] also took in Catholic children.

Dr. Stephenson said that a similar inst[itution] was very badly required.

The Commission adjourned till next T[hursday] day at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Charles H. O'Conor (Chairman) [pre]sided, and the other members present were: The Right Rev. Monsignor Dunne, D[ean]; Sir Joseph Glynn, Sir John Ke[ane,] Major Sproule Myles, T.D.; Senator [...] Wyse Power, Dr. T. Hennessy, T.D.; Mr[.] Sugrue.

EVIDENCE INVITED.

Any person wishing to give evidence at [the] Commission is requested to send a summ[ary] of the evidence he proposes to give to [the] Secretary, Poor Law Commission, Gov[ern]ment Buildings, Merrion street, Dublin, [and] the Secretary will arrange with him a[s to] the time and place of hearing his eviden[ce.]

A total of 7,451,549 car miles were ru[n,] compared with 6,857,046 last year, a[n in]crease of 594,503, or 8 per cent. That [was] the result of strengthening very conside[rably] certain services on different sections, [and] especially to the extent of the 2d. stag[e.]

PREPAID TOKENS TO BE TRIED IN BELFAST.

A review of the working of the Belfast tramways undertaking was presented by Alderman Crichton at yesterday's meeting of the Belfast City Council.

The traffic revenue for the year amounted to £597,335 as compared with £583,590 last year, and the average recipts per car mile amounted to 19.24d. as compared with 20.43d. in the previous year. Working expenses worked out at £390,383, compared with £404,856, and the average expenses per car mile came to 12.57d. as against 14.17d. last year. The working profit carried to net revenue account amounted to £207,682 17s. 7d., and after providing £104,513 10s. 5d. for loan charges, £8,429 4s. 3d. for income tax, £14,669 0s. 4d. for other net revenue charges, and £25,000 for the annual contribution to the depreciation fund, there remained a surplus of £55,071 2s. 7d. at the credit of the appropriation account.

A total of 7,451,549 car miles were run, as compared with 6,857,046 last year, an increase of 594,503, or 8 per cent. That was the result of strengthening very considerably certain services on different sections, more especially to the extent of the 2d. stage.

100,000,000 PASSENGERS.

The number of passengers carried was 101,476,902, as against 94,237,313, an increase of 7,239,589, or 7.68 per cent. That constituted a record in the history of the undertaking. The greatest number carried hitherto was 100,643,705 in the boom year of 1920-21. The average fare per passenger worked out at 1.413d., as compared with 1.486d. last year. The average journey per head of population works out at 225, as compared with 209 in 1923-24, based on an estimated population of 450,000.

It was recommended that the fares and stages remain unaltered, having regard to the heavy additional loan charges which would have to be provided for in the current year, in consequence of the reconstruction of the track and the various extensions. It was recommended, however, that pre-paid tokens should be introduced and offered for sale at 25 penny tokens for 2s. and 25 halfpenny tokens for 1s. It was to be given a trial for six months.

CENTRAL CRIMINAL COURT TRIALS.

Mr. Justice Hanna will commence the trial of a long list of criminal cases to-morrow in the Courthouse, Green street, Dublin. In the list are included:—

Attempted Murder—Michael Byrne, County Carlow; Hugh McDwyer, County Donegal; Thomas Staunton and Patrick Carroll, County Mayo; John Gallagher and Michael Woods, County Sligo.

Murder—Hannah O'Leary (2) (junior and senior); Mary Anne and Cornelius O'Leary, County Cork; Patrick Connor, County Galway; James Boylan, do.; Patrick Keane and Sarah Keane, do.; James Murray, County Kildare; Daniel Sheehy, County Mayo; Samuel McElroy, County Roscommon.

There is, in addition, a long calendar of charges of burglary, robbery, intimidation, obstructing the police, conspiracy, robbery with arms, arson, firing at and causing bodily harm, perjury, malicious injury, house breaking, false pretences, obstructing sheriff's officer, embezzlement, etc.

SALE OF FRIESIAN CATTLE.

The sale of Miss M. E. Gubbins's herd of British Friesians at the Hermitage, Glanmire, Co. Cork, yesterday, by Messrs. William Marsh and Sons, cattle salesmen, caused considerable interest. Mr. D. Flavin, of Youghal, gave £35 for Hermitage Bunty, a four-year-old cow, and that was the top price.

'ADJOINING COUNTY' NO LONGER.

BORDER JURISDICTION RULING.

An interesting question of border jurisdiction was argued at Monaghan District Court, when a summons against a resident of Co. Monaghan for assault alleged to have been committed by him at a place 200 yards over the border in Co. Fermanagh was again brought up, having been adjourned from a previous sitting for legal argument on this particular question.

The complainant in the original summons was James Boyle, of Tattymore, Co. Fermanagh, who alleged that he had been assaulted at Tattymore by James Johnston, of Rough Hill, Co. Monaghan. At the further hearing, the Free State Attorney-General was made complainant, the District Justice having pointed out that the summons concerned an indictable offence.

In the course of the arguments, the trial of Jameson Raid conspirators in London, and a Canadian case were cited, and reference was made to an authority for the trial in an adjoining county of a man committing an offence within 500 yards of a county boundary.

The Justice, Mr. Hannan, said that Fermanagh was no longer an adjoining county.

Giving his dicision that he had no jurisdiction, Mr. Hannan said that in common law and in the absence of statutory jurisdiction Courts of law could take cognisance only of crimes committeed within the territory over which the Courts have jurisdiction. He had not been shown any statutory authority which would give him jurisdiction. Regarding the McQuillan case in the Northern Courts, it was tried under a particular section of the Larceny Act, and he did not think the principles of that decision would extend to the present case. The offence was an offence against the laws of Northern Ireland, and could only be tried in Northern Courts.

IRISH BOUNDARY COMMISSION.

LONDONDERRY'S CLAIMS.

The Irish Boundary Commission in Londonderry yesterday issued the following official report:—

At to-day's sittings of the Irish Boundary Commission witnesses were heard on behalf of the Corporation of the City of Londonderry in opposition to claims made for the inclusion of the city in the Irish Free State and in support of claims made by the Corporation for adjustments of the existing boundary, so as to include in Northern Ireland certain portions of East Donegal bordering on the Liberties and on the River Foyle and the Lough.

MONEY UNDER A STONE.

DETECTIVES' TRAP IN CORK CITY.

A remarkable story was told at the Cork District Court yesterday, when a young man named Albert Downing, whose address was given as Gardiners Hill, was charged with having attempted to obtain £50 by menaces from Aubrey E. O'Callaghan, senior, estate and insurance agent.

Evidence was given that Mr. O'Callaghan received a letter, which stated: "Sir,— As chief representative of the Irish Republican Army in Cork, I am ordered to send you the following notice:—Whereas, you have been reported as having interests which are Anti-Republican, therefore, you are sent the following instructions:—(1) You are ordered to place the sum of £50 beneath a pile of stones which you will find in the laneway off Caroline street, first turn to the right coming from Oliver Plunkett street. This money must be placed at exactly 10.45 p.m. to-night (Saturday), 30-5-'25. The money must be in silver only, and remember it is half day at the banks. If you do not pay first time you will receive another warning, with an additional £10 added. If you do not pay the second time you will receive a third warning, with another £10 added. If you do not pay after this warning you will be shot down as a menace to our cause. If you pay first time you will be perfectly safe, and possibly, if after three months you are reported as satisfactory, your money shall be returned in full. Show this note to no one, but tear it up immediately."

A parcel was placed as directed, and concealed detectives saw the accused, who ran away, but was captured. He told the detectives that it was a joke.

Mr. Boudren, solicitor, said that it was the wish of the accused man's father, who was in business in Dublin and who had travelled to Cork that morning, that the case should be completed as soon as possible.

In asking for a remand, Detective-Sergeant O'Sullivan said he understood that Mr. O'Callaghan, senior, had paid more than £50 before in similar circumstances.

The accused was remanded on bail himself in a sum of £200 and two sureties of £100 each.

BELFAST SHIPBUILDING TRADE.

A DECREASED OUTPUT.

Messrs. Harland and Wolff, Belfast, have received orders for the alteration of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company's motor ship, Lochgoil. During the past four months seven ships, exclusive of two barges, have been launched at Belfast. Of these, four tankers, each of 2,350 tons, were launched from Messrs. Harland and Wolff's yards, and Messrs. Workman, Clark and Co. launched the motor ship, Port Dunedin, and two cargo carriers. The total Belfast output to date is about 27,000 tons, compared with 58,700 for the same period last year.

RENT OF A COURTHOUSE.

DISTRICT JUSTICE'S DILEMMA.

How a district justice was unable to use a courthouse in the County Roscommon was told to Judge Wakely at the District Court in Roscommon, when Patrick Nicholson claimed the rent of a building in Frenchpark which, he said, had been taken by the Roscommon County Council.

The plaintiff said that the Secretary of the County Council arranged with him to take the house at £20 a year, and instructed him to carry out repairs in order to make it suitable for a courthouse. He did so and had not been paid.

In cross-examination, the plaintiff said that the Secretary of the County Council told him that he had no authority to exceed £10 as rent, but the Local Government Department had stated that under the circumstances the limit might be exceeded.

Mr. Geraghty—Did not you think you were a very lucky man when you were not committed for contempt of court for refusing to admit the district justice?

Plaintiff—He was very surly over it, and said he would see that I did not get my money.

Mr. Gilooly, County Council Secretary, said that he asked the plaintiff to give him a place for £10 a year. He was not aware that the bank had the use of the building. No definite arrangement was come to. He was advised by their solicitor not to sign the agreement, as the bank would interfere with the use of the place by the District Court.

His Lordship said that in his opinion a decree should be given for £25 for work done and £15 rent, but he would adjourn his decision till Tuesday morning, so as to enable Mr. Nerney to inspect the place. He thought that it was a case for settlement.

NATIONAL PILGRIMAGE TO ROME

The Secretary of the Irish National Pilgrimage to Rome writes to say that the Free State Department of Education is prepared to sanction absence from school duty on the part of such national teachers as may, with the approval of their managers, take part in the pilgrimage, subject to the following conditions:—

(1) That the maximum period of absence in any case does not exceed four weeks; (2) that a fully qualified teacher be employed in each case during the period of absence; (3) that the absent teacher be responsible for the remuneration of his or her substitute.

The pilgrimage will leave Dublin on the 12th of October and return on the 31st of October.

14 BISHOPS IN BELFAST.

CATHEDRAL FRONT STONE-LAYING.

DEDICATION SERVICE.

FACADE AS VICTORY MEMORIAL.

The first stone of the façade of the West front of the Cathedral of St. Anne's, Belfast, was laid yesterday by the Governor of Northern Ireland, the Duke of Abercorn.

Afterwards the addition to the cathedral of the central crossing portion of the whole design was dedicated.

The façade, which is being erected as a Victory Memorial, is in full consonance with the existing Romanesque type of architecture, and carries out its main constructive lines to a dignified and stately conclusion.

The occasion was given State and civic dignity. A guard of honour of the Highland Light Infantry was posted for the Governor; the Lord Mayor and Corporation of Belfast attended in robes; and many other persons of local prominence, including three Ministers of the Northern Government, were accommodated on a special stand. Lord Glenavy, Chairman of the Free State Senate, also attended.

The Primate was present, and was accompanied by fourteen bishops. Other Churches were represented by the Right Rev. R. W. Hamilton, Moderator of the General Assembly, and the Rev. W. H. Smyth, Chairman of the Belfast Methodist Synod.

A special form of Service was used. The Bishop of Down, after reading the Preface, and special prayers, laid his hand upon the stone and prayed for blessing on the work "which we undertake for the greater beauty of Thy House and to the glory of Thy Name."

THE GOVERNOR'S ADDRESS.

The Duke of Abercorn, after formally laying the stone, addressed the assembly. His Grace said:—

"It is my proud privilege to commemorate the glorious sacrifice made by the men and women of our land during the Great War by laying this, the first stone of the façade of the West front of St. Anne's Cathedral. The day chosen for this ceremony is in every way appropriate, being the twenty-first anniversary of the consecration of the nave, thus showing that the pious and earnest work of the completion of this sacred edifice goes steadily forward.

"No memorial of brick and stone can possibly repay the sacrifice of those who lost their lives in those terrible years, 1914 to 1918, but a memorial such as this is one which will live in the hearts of all men of good-will for generations after we, who have erected it, have passed away.

"It is my earnest prayer that the memorial we now set up in the House of Almighty God may be a lasting remembrance of those who have gone, and a living inspiration for those who will follow after.

"It has been said that the might and majesty of a nation is shown in its architecture and in the memorials which it passes down through the ages, and I feel assured that this Cathedral, which is in process of completion, will rank worthily with other beautiful and impressive buildings in our land. It is a healthy sign when men turn aside from the work-a-day world to set up noble edifices as a proof of their faith, and in special measure I feel to-day that such an addition to St. Anne's Cathedral is full worthy of the cause which it perpetuates.

"To all those who upon this occasion are mourning the loss of their dear ones, may I give a word of hope: 'They are not dead; they only sleep, and their name liveth for evermore.'"

NEW STRUCTURE DEDICATED.

Afterwards the Governor and the other dignitaries were present at the further Service within the Cathedral, for the consecration of the portion of the building by which it has been enlarged recently.

The Bishop of Down declared to be "consecrate, and for ever set apart from all profane and common uses" the central crossing of the Cathedral. The foundations, crypt, floor, and pillars of the central crossing have been built in the years since 1922, and enclosed by temporary walls at a cost of £15,000, the total amount expended to date on the Cathedral building being £58,619. The completion of the west front as a Victory memorial is expected to cost about £25,000, of which sums amounting to about £12,700 are in hand or promised.

SPIRITUAL BUILDING.

SERMON BY THE BISHOP OF GLOUCESTER.

The Bishop of Gloucester (Dr. Headlam) was the special preacher at the Dedication Service. He said that that building was only the embodiment in stone of a religious ideal. Our Lord had clearly defined the distinction of the religious from the political society, and equally strongly and decisively He had condemned the use of force in the cause of religion. "Put up thy sword into thy sheath, for they who take the sword shall perish with the sword." Many of the greatest mistakes of Christianity had arisen from disobedience of that command. If once they attempted to use the power of the State or the force of arms, or any other worldly methods, to build up either their national or their catholic Christianity, they would create nothing but strife and confusion. They aimed first at building up a national Christianity, which meant that the whole nation should be united in spiritual unity. That was the ideal of the Reformation statesmen, but, unfortunately, they attempted to do it in a wrong way; and it was just because they had invoked the power of the sword to carry out their ideals that they failed. The result of the vicissitudes that followed had left a nation divided in religion, instead of united. They should learn the lesson, and trying to build up a united Christian Church should remember that its basis must be tolerance—tolerance in religion, in education, and in social life. He thought the time had come when they might seriously ask themselves whether what they had inherited from the Reformation need continue. The only hope for mankind lay in greater spiritual union between Christians. The problem, alike for the nation and for international relations, was one of spiritual unity, and the greatest need of the Christian world at the present day was to bring greater union into the Churches. Sometimes they almost despaired; yet he believed that a solution was not impossible, and he commended three things as necessary—sober learning, Christian charity, and prayer. He trusted that that ceremony would inspire them to greater zeal in the building up of Christ's Church—of a united national Church, and side by side with it the Universal Church.

OXFORD UNION SOCIETY'S APPEAL.

The Oxford Union Society finds it necessary to appeal to members of the Society, non-resident as well as resident, for help to meet claims which have arisen, owing to circumstances not likely to recur. A floating debt of £4,000 had accrued through the almost complete cessation of income during the Great War. That debt had been paid off, but it has been found necessary to raise the subscription by 5s. a term to meet increased prices, wages, taxes, etc. After ten years of rigid economy, it is now proposed to put the buildings of the Society into thorough repair and restore internal decorations and furnishing. The library and smoking room (dating from the middle of the last century) need thorough overhauling. It is hoped that some £6,000 may be raised to meet these extraordinary needs and to provide the nucleus of a Repairs Fund. Help is, therefore, asked for an institution to which its members owe so much. Cheques may be made payable to the Treasurer, Oxford Union Society, Frewin Court, Oxford.

BRI-CHUALANN OR BRAY.

MOTION TO RESTORE OLD NAME FAILS.

At last night's meeting of the Bray Urban Council, at which Mr. P. Murphy presided, Mr. R. Heatley moved the following resolution, of which he had given notice:—

"That the name of Bri-Chualann be changed back to Bray, and that all resolutions to the contrary be rescinded."

He said that he did not think that the action of the Council in changing the name of Bray reflected the wishes of the townspeople. He contended that if a referendum were taken on the question there would be a majority of twenty to one against the changing of the name of Bray to Bri-Chualann.

Protests against the proposal to change back the name of the town to Bray were read from the local branches of the Gaelic League and the Gaelic Athletic Association. On the other hand a document, signed by forty merchants and traders in the town, was read, strongly supporting the proposal to re-name the place Bray. The change of name, the document stated, had caused great loss of trade and endless confusion.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Jordan.

The Chairman said that a number of towns and counties in the country had their names changed, and the town of Bri-Chualann seemed to be the only place where the spirit was such that they could not tolerate the Irish language when it took an official use.

Mr. E. Byrne suggested that, as that Council's career was now drawing to a close, the matter should be left to the new Council.

Mr. J. M. Magee remarked that the forty people who signed the document in support of the resolution represented the big ratepayers and business men of the town, and that was one of the reasons why he would suggest that the name be changed back. Another reason was that, as a seaside resort, it was known as Bray, and was quite unknown to the people on the other side as Bri-Chualann.

Mr. J. Metcalfe said that if it was the people's wish that the place should be called Bray, then let the people's wishes be carried out.

The motion was lost by 6 votes to 5.

DUBLIN CIRCUIT COURT.

AN ASSISTANT JUDGE.

A temporary assistant to Judge Dromgoore, Circuit Court Judge for the City and County of Dublin, is to be appointed shortly, owing to the amount of business that has accumulated in the Circuit Court. Power to make the appointment within three years of the passing of the Act is given in the Courts of Justice Act.

It is thought that, if the present arrears of work in the Court were cleared, one judge would be able to cope with the work, but this will depend entirely on the future. At present, owing to the absence of Court Rules, actions for debts under £25 are not brought into the District Court, but are being heard in the Circuit Court, and consequently the relief which, it was expected, would be afforded by the extended jurisdiction of the District Court, has not been felt to an appreciable extent. Apart from this aspect, the business of the Circuit Court of late has been very heavy, owing to the large number of compensation claims.

The name of ex-County Court Judge Pigot (Limerick), who lives in Dublin, has been mentioned in connection with the new appointment.

FAMOUS ULSTER MEN.

FOYLE COLLEGE MEMORIAL TO FORMER PUPILS.

The association of the famous Lawrence brothers—Sir George Lawrence, Sir Henry Lawrence, and John Lord Lawrence—with Foyle College, Derry, where they were educated, has been commemorated there by the erection of a memorial tablet. The tablet was unveiled by the Right Rev. H. H. Montgomery (formerly Bishop of Tasmania), whose father, Sir Robert Montgomery, a contemporary of the Lawrences at Foyle College, is also commemorated.

The tablet, for which the boys now at the school subscribed, records the years during which the four were pupils there, and states that it was placed there "100 years after John Lawrence left the school."

Professor Woodburn, M.A., one of the Governors of the College, who presided, reminded the bys that it had been said of the Lawrences that they had saved India; but it might be added that Sir Robert Montgomery saved Lahore, and with it the Punjab, and so made it possible for the Lawrences to save India.

OVER THE BORDER.

END OF A JOY RIDE.

Two men, who acknowledged that there is a border, but knew nothing of Customs' regulations, were charged at Monaghan District Court yesterday with breaches of the Customs and frontier regulations. One was Robert Irvine, of the Everton Club, Liverpool, an international footballer, who is a native of Lisburn, and the other was James Sherry, of the Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers, who had been in Mesopotamia for the past three years. They were charged with bringing a motor bicycle into the Irish Free State.

John King, Customs Officer at Clontibret, on the Armagh-Monaghan border, saw a motor bicycle outside a house near Clontibret, watched it himself from 6.30 to 8 o'clock, and then went to the Civic Guard barrack and got the Guards to assist in the watch. King found that the owners of the bicycle had gone to the house of a Mrs. Hughes, who was a relative of Sherry's, and he went there with the sergeant of the Guards, and saw Irvine, who pleaded that he knew nothing of the Customs regulations, that he had no bond for crossing the border, and had not reported at the Customs station. King brought the two men before the Customs Officer at Monaghan.

In cross-examinaion King said that both men seemed inclined to give all the information in their power.

Sergeant McNally corroborated the evidence regarding the visit to Mrs. Hughes's house.

Robert Irvine stated that he spent nine months of the year in Liverpool. He produced the registration for his motor bicycle, and said that he and Sherry lost their way and ran out of petrol. They stopped two priests on the road in cars, and neither of them could give them petrol, but they got another man with a Ford car who filled the tank for them. They went on, and were directed towards Clontibret. They knew nothing whatever of Customs regulations.

James Sherry, of the Inniskilling Fusiliers, said that he had been on service in the Far East, and had only come home on the 1st of May, and knew nothing of the regulations.

Mr. D. X. Keenan, who defended, urged that there could be no breach of the law, as both men had acted bona-fide throughout.

The Justice said that he thought that in this case both defendants wandered into the Free State in absolute ignorance of Customs regulations and of Customs laws, and he dismissed the case without prejudice.

TULLAMORE COUNCIL'S EXPENDITURE.

TOWN TENANTS' CRITICISM.

Mr. J. Lloyd presided at a meeting under the auspices of the Town Tenants' Association at Tullamore on Sunday last, and appealed to those present to support the Town Tenants' candidates at the Urban Council election. He said that while he always had supported Labour, he did not agree with its attitude in the last unfortunate strike in Tullamore. If his advice had been taken the trouble would have been avoided. If the employers had been approached in a proper business-like manner, the differences between them would have been adjusted. He challenged those in the Urban Council to point out anything that had been done as the result of their huge yearly expenditure.

Mr. P. J. Daly said that the rates were oppressive. They were paying £600 pension to an ex-County Secretary, and another County Council Secretary was going out with a pension of £350. These sums, with the salary of the new County Secretary came to £1,500 or £1,600 a year, which was an intolerable burden.

HEALTH INSURANCE.

SOCIETIES AND PROPOSED UNIFICATION.

THE COMMISSIONERS CRITICISED.

The interim report of the Committee of the Irish Free State Inquiry into Health Insurance and Medical Services in favour of "unification, if feasible," was condemned at a meeting of representatives of approved societies in the Mansion House, Dublin, yesterday.

The view was generally held that unification would deprive the societies of their present independence, and would interfere with the social side of their work. It was suggested that the trouble lay with the Insurance Commission, and the Commissioners were advised to put their own house in order, to cut down expenses, and leave the approved societies to carry on their own work.

Mr. R. G. Riordan, Vice-President of the Association, presided, in the unavoidable absence of the Chairman, Mr. W. G. Perrott.

The Chairman asked whether the proposal for unification was not due to a desire to cut down, without regard to the interests of approved societies and their members, the excessive expenditure of Insurance Commission on central supervision, and that alone. Having reviewed the circumstances that led to the holding of the inquiry, he proceeded to examine the arguments put forward for unification, and said that their Association held that these arguments were either unsound, or that the improvements aimed at could be achieved without alteration of the present scheme.

NON-COMPLIANCE.

Turning to the final argument put forward by the Insurance Commission to justify the fundamental change which is proposed—namely, that the present high cost of central administration is due to the existing system under which about eighty societies administer the Act in the Free State, he said that the excessive cost was not due to the causes stated, but to the situation created by the vast volume of non-compliance in the country, and the difficulties which naturally flowed from that condition of affairs. The cost of central administration was at present 3s. 8½d. per insured person per annum. In a memorandum on the subject submitted to the Committee of Inquiry, the Commissioners said that if the rate of compliance was brought up to the British level of about 99 per cent. of insurable persons, no more staff would be required, and the cost per head would be reduced by at least 25 per cent.—that was, to 2s. 9½d. The Association were of opinion that it would be still further reduced, because the services of a number of officials at present investigating complaints of non-compliance and of non-payment of benefits due to non-compliance, and investigating other disputes arising from the same cause, would no longer be necessary, and consequently these officials could be transferred to other departments where their services were urgently needed, with a proportionate further reduction in the cost of administration by the Commission. Economies might not end there. Savings could be effected by centralising the work of the insurance departments in one building; by transferring the deposit contributors' and similar funds to approved societies, in accordance with their offer to take them over, so that, without any change in the present system, the cost might be brought down to 1s. 6d. or 2s.

Mr. R. Henderson, of the Prudential Society, said his Committee of Management had not yet had an opportunity of discussing the report, but, on the broad lines of the report, they were fully in agreement with the attitude taken up by the Association in opposition to any scheme of truncated nationalisation of approved society work. It was quite apparent that the unified society, if formed, would be merely a glorified board of guardians. The whole scheme, as recommended in the report, seemed to represent the dragooning of the people into one society. The proposed unification would have all the defects of nationalisation without any of its advantages.

The Rev. P. Gray, Adm., Longford, said that his diocesan society was completely opposed to unification, whether in one large body or grouping into a number of bodies, but still, unification. They objected to any interference with the state of independence that the societies at present enjoyed. They were also opposed to nationalisation, mainly for the reason that one large society would not treat the individual members with the same consideration that the local body, working for social good, could and did show. He thought that the Commission should look to itself. Approved societies had done their work well, and no fault could be found with them. The Commission, being at fault, had to cover itself, and brought in a verdict against the societies; whereas the Commission itself should be in the dock. The Commission should put its own house in order, cut down expenses, and leave the societies alone. Compliance with the Act, he said in conclusion, would be almost impossible if they had got a heartless machine, such as would result from unification.

SELF-HELP.

The Rev. Canon Lewis-Crosby (Union Friendly Society) said that while they were all opposed to unification, as a matter of practical politics they should seriously consider whether the status quo should be urged, or whether they should agree to a reduction in the number of societies—a voluntary reduction if possible; if not, compulsory. He thought that the great thing in the present system was self-help, and anything they could do to encourage that was of inestimable value to the country.

Mr. J. O'Mullane, St. Finbarr's Diocesan Society, Cork, said that the Commission was really out to get the "nest eggs" represented by the societies' savings.

Mr. E. N. Kerin, Co. Clare, said that they had been told in Clare that unless they all joined the Cumann na nGaedheal any grievances they had to submit to the Government would not be heard. The Committees of Management of the various insured societies had not been, and did not intend to be, political organisations. They were elected by insured persons to administer the National Health Insurance Act, regardless of politics or creed. No case had been made out for unification.

Mr. T. McCarthy, St. Finbar's Diocesan Society, Cork, said that he proposed unification would not benefit the insured people. They had seen what happened in the case of the unemployed insurance. He knew of men signing up for eight or ten weeks before they received money they should have got after six days. How would the National Health Insurance Act be worked if they brought all the business into one section?

Alderman J. Bonner, Derry Diocesan Society, said that excessive expenditure in administration was not on the side of the societies, who had worked their concerns on the smallest possible grant.

Mr. B. Bradley, Land and Labour Society, Cork, said that the great fault in the Insurance Act was non-compliance. That had been giving trouble to the Commission, to the societies, and to the insured people, and was the source of all the mischief.

COST OF COMMISSION.

Mr. John D. Nugent, ex-M.P., A.O.H. Insurance Society, said that it was all really a question whether the Insurance Commission was worth the money spent on it. That was a matter that the Government should consider. So far as cost was concerned the approved societies were out of it altogether. In fact, on the admission of the Commission, the societies in the country conducted their business as efficiently and as economically as the best societies in Great Britain. The cost of the Insurance Commission in the Free State was 100 per cent. higher than that in Northern Ireland, and the number of societies, in proportion to the number of insured persons, was lower in Northern Ireland. Expenditure in the Free State Commission was 150 per cent. higher than in Great Britain, costing the Free State 3s. 8½d. per member, as compared with 1s. 4d. in Great Britain. He objected to the Commission sitting as judges instead of as prisoners in the dock, because it was their administration and high cost that had called for this report.

The high cost of insurance administration was an indictment of the whole Civil Service system of the Free State. He had not noticed in the report a single suggestion of benefit for the insured people. As to the question of non-compliance with the Act, that was a matter on which the societies had offered suggestions that would have solved the trouble, but these suggestions had been wiped aside.

For their own protection, he wanted every society in the Free State to maintain its own independence, because if unified the head office and whole control and employment would be in Dublin. If there was to be a unified society, where was the necessity for the Insurance Commission at all? If the Commission could not reduce expenditure let them give the societies a chance and they would reduce it for them.

At present there was machinery working to wipe out the societies and keep the Commission in existence. The Government had not yet committed themselves to the scheme, and it was for the delegates to see that they were fully informed before they committed themselves to any scheme.

Mr. T. Ryan (Great Southern and Western Railway Company Society) said that it was really the jobs that counted with those in favour of unification and not the interests of the insured persons. If the scheme was insisted upon it was up to the societies to oppose it in every way, and, while it was not right to use threats, they might have to do so if the Government insisted on making this change.

Mr. T. Hutchinson (I.N.F.) said that unification would sound the knell of National Health Insurance in the Free State.

RESOLUTION OF PROTEST.

On the motion of Mr. J. D. Nugent, seconded by Mr. Kevin J. Kenny (Sláinte Society), the following motion was passed unanimously:—

"That this general meeting of approved societies operating in the Saorstat, and representing 400,000 insured persons, or 90 per cent. of the insured population, reaffirms its unanimous protest against unification, on the grounds, amongst others, (1) that it is not feasible; (2) that it will not reduce the cost of the National Health Insurance Commission to the extent claimed, and the required savings can be secured without resort to unification; (3) that it will create friction of a dangerous nature between the various sectional and sectarian groups of insured persons; (4) that it will place in the hands of the Committee of Management an influence which can be utilised against the State itself, politically as well as during periods of industrial, commercial and agricultural disputes between employers and employed; (5) that it will destroy the movements making for individual and collective thrift already in existence in approved and allied societies and kindred organisations so essential to the well-being of the State.

"It is further resolved—That this general meeting request the Minister for Finance to receive a deputation representative of the various groups present at this meeting, so that their views may be more fully placed before him, with a view to urging a continuance of the present system, or, in the alternative, considering a scheme of voluntary group amalgamation."

The following were appointed a deputation to wait on the Minister for Finance:—The Rev. E. Lewis-Crosby, Canon of Christ Church; the Rev. P. Gray, Adm., St. Mel's, Longford; Messrs. B. Keogh, Irish Clerks' and Assistants' A.S.; E. O'Donoghoe, Tipperary; K. J. Kenny, Sláinte Assurance Society; D. Watters, National Union of Railwaymen; B. Bradley, Land and Labour Society, Cork; T. McCarthy, National Trade Society, Enniscorthy; R. Henderson, Prudential Society; E. N. Kerin, Co. Clare Society; W. Coffey, Tipperary, with the Chairman and members of the Executive Council.

THE WELL-BALANCED PETROL

Some constituents of petrol give ease in starting, others good mileage, others good pulling power on hills, but only in a well-balanced petrol are all three qualities to be found in perfection. The small quantity of light paraffin hydrocarbons in Shell ensures easy starting, whilst the naphthenes and aromatics give high mileage and pulling power.

Buy from a certified Shell pump or in a sealed red can and be sure of getting the right spirit—SHELL.

CORNS TENDERNESS SWELLING — GET RID OF — ACHING CALLOUSES BURNING

ALL YOUR FOOT TROUBLES

"You will never see them again after using Reudel Bath Saltrates. No excuse now for suffering from corny, calloused, tired, tender, aching feet."

Cutting the top of a corn off with a razor or burning it off with caustic lotion, plasters, etc., doesn't do any good. The root just sprouts right up again, and soon your corn has a brand new top on it, bigger than ever. The top is only dead skin anyway. The business end of a corn is the little pointed part, or core, that extends down into the toe. That is what hurts when it presses on sensitive nerves, and it is the part you have to get out.

Cutting the top off an aching tooth wouldn't stop the ache. Same way with a corn. Don't worry about the top. Get the root out permanently by using a good big handful of Reudel Bath Saltrates (you can get a half-pound at slight cost from any chemist) dissolved in about a gallon of hot water. Just soak your feet in this for fifteen or twenty minutes, then take hold of the corn with your fingers, and out she'll come root and all, like a hull comes out of a strawberry. Only a little hole or depression is left in the toe, and that soon closes, so there is nothing left in there to sprout a new corn again. It doesn't effect the surrounding flesh at all, but soon softens the whole of the corn. No burning or soreness, no pain, no danger, no trouble, and no days of waiting to see whether that old corn is going to leave for good or come back to stay with you a while longer. Softens callouses the same way, then scrape off, and I don't dare tell you how quick this medicated water, made with Reudel Bath Saltrates, will always drive aches, chafes, blisters, etc., away, and even cure rheumatic or gouty pains. It would sound too good to be true, but thousands can tell what wonderful stuff "Saltrates" water is.

NEWS SUMMARY.

IRELAND.

A proposal to remove Nelson's Pillar is being considered by the Dublin Commissioners.—(Page 7.)

Only twelve members were present in the Dail yesterday when an estimate of £3,675,000 for compensation was discussed. The Phœnix Park Bill received a second reading.—(Page 7.)

Representatives of approved societies in the Irish Free State, at a conference in the Mansion House, Dublin, yesterday, criticised the interim report of the Committee of inquiry into Health Insurance and Medical Services, especially with regard to unification.—(Page 5.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

The King's Birthday Honours List was issued last night.—(Page 7.)

The strike of seven thousand motormen and carters in Liverpool did not seriously interfere with the work of the port there yesterday, and an early collapse of the dispute is anticipated.—(Page 7.)

ABROAD.

Rioters barricaded in a theatre in Shanghai yesterday fired on an American volunteer patrol. One man was wounded. The position is generally growing worse.—(Page 7.)

When the Pope received four hundred Australian pilgrims yesterday Archbishop Mannix, who accompanied them, stated that it was the intention of some of them to visit Ireland before returning home.—(Page 7.)

Many deaths due to a heat wave are reported from the United States.—(Page 7.)

SPORTING.

At Baldoyle yesterday St. Donagh won the Baldoyle Derby, Carrig Long the Portmarnock Plate, Silver Charm the Kinsealy Plate, Brave May the Seaside Plate, Clonsheever the Malahide Plate, and Vesington King the Howth Plate.—(Page 10.)

At Hurst Park Precious won the Vyner High-Weight Handicap.—(Page 10.)

At Wolverhampton Invercauld won the Wolverhampton Handicap.—(Page 10.)

At Redcar Cantelupe won the Skelton High-Weight Handicap.—(Page 11.)

FINANCIAL.

London Stock Markets were quiet, with a cheerful tone. Rubber Shares were active on the rising price of raw material.—(Page 4.)

Money was rather scarce, in spite of the War Loan dividends, and 5 per cent. and over was sometimes paid for short loans, but later the usual charge was 3½-3 per cent. Discount rates were steady.—(Page 4.)

The People's Playground.

The people of Dublin will base high expectations on the Phœnix Park Bill, which received a second reading yesterday in Dail Eireann. This Bill empowers the Commissioners of Public Works to maintain the Park for the general use and enjoyment of the citizens, for the particular uses which have been sanctioned in the past, and for such other particular uses as the Commissioners may sanction in the future. They are empowered also to make by-laws for the preservation of the Park's amenities, and, on special occasions, to segregate portions of it for such entertainments as motor-racing, to which the public will be admitted on the payment of fees. Very properly, this proposed restriction of the people's rights was not left unchallenged; but we are willing to accept the Government's assurance that the power of segregation will be employed in the most careful manner, and only when it is justified by very special circumstances. Motor-racing under such official auspices as ensure the maximum of safety for competitors and spectators is a healthy, instructive and exciting sport. The Phœnix Park is an ideal locality for it, and the citizens will not grudge a small payment for their thrills. We welcome the Bill warmly on account of its large potentialities. It is a recognition of the fact that the Irish capital has at its door a public playground—for extent and beauty the envy of many capitals—which is capable of almost unlimited development in the interest of civic health and enjoyment. We do not suggest that the trustees of the Park under the old régime neglected their duty. They supplied, with a quite generous hand, all facilities that were required of them. Already a considerable area of the Park is studded with cricket pitches and football grounds, where on fine Saturday afternoons thousands of citizens amuse themselves, "the young contending while the old survey."

During the last few years, however, our congested civilisation has expanded its notions of the people's rights in the common stock of health and happiness. Pastimes like football, golf and lawn tennis, formerly the possession of a single class, are becoming more fully, with every new day, the possession of all classes. The task of Governments and social reformers now is to stimulate democracy's desire for the joie de vivre into active consciousness and then to satisfy it in all sound and innocent ways. Where five thousand citizens of Dublin play games in the Phœnix Park to-day there is ample room and verge enough for fifty thousand. The Free State Government, armed with the new Bill, ought not merely to permit the people to practise sports in the Park: with the help of the Churches and the schools, it ought to be an apostle of open-air exercise and of skill in pastimes that will give the qualities of vigour, grace and self-respect to our Irish boys and girls. There is plenty of space in the Phœnix Park not only for more cricket-grounds, football-grounds and hurley-grounds, but for dozens of lawn tennis courts where our young shop-assistants could straighten their backs and breathe pure air on Sundays and half-holidays. When—as we trust, at an early date—the public golf course is opened in the Park, with the Government's sanction and approval, hundreds of Dublin's citizens will be introduced to one of the cleanest, healthiest and most fascinating pastimes in the world. All these benefits the eye of hope sees latent in the formal terminology of the new Bill. We believe that the Phœnix Park, used thus wisely and as, perhaps, its Creator intended, may become an important factor in the solution of many social and industrial problems. Here surely is a field in which employers and employed can co-operate with an ever-widening appreciation of one another's aims and difficulties. We are tempted to suggest that the Phœnix Park Bill shall be so amended as to provide for compulsory golf matches between leading representatives of the Free State's Capital and Labour.

Sleeping Watch-dogs.

A matter of much public interest was raised in Dail Eireann yesterday by Mr. Thomas Johnson, leader of the Labour Party. The House was discussing some important estimates, preparatory to the voting of large sums of public money, and when a vote of £3,675,300 for compensation claims was reached Mr. Johnson drew the attention of the Chairman to the fact that only a dozen deputies were present. A division was challenged, giving time to the Whips to collect their scattered legions, and finally thirty deputies were mustered to defeat Mr. Johnson's motion to report progress by twenty votes to ten. During the afternoon several other votes were passed. There was one for nearly £2,000,000 in connection with superannuation and retiring allowances, another for £68,000, a third for £65,000, a fourth for £32,000 and a number of others for smaller sums. Yet throughout the discussion on these votes the House was nearly empty. On "big" occasions, of course, the benches generally are fairly well filled; but when really important work must be done in the unromantic atmosphere of Committee the task of safeguarding the people's interests is left to a handful of members. Apart from the Ministers, the leader of the Labour Party and half-a-dozen others, the popularly elected members of Dail Eireann, every one of whom is in receipt of a salary from the State, seem to take their public responsibilities very lightly.

The primary duty of any Parliament is the exercise of the strictest vigilance over the expenditure of public money. The principle of no taxation without representation is the basis of all modern government, and the people have a right to expect that, when their money is being apportioned to the various spending departments of State, their representatives shall be present to see that the best possible use is being made of it. There was a time when members of Parliament in these islands regarded themselves as rulers of the people; but that time, fortunately, is no more. To-day members are elected by popular suffrage; they are paid official salaries, and, just like any other servants of the public, they are required to be worthy of their salt. In the Free State these facts do not seem yet to be appreciated fully. The old tradition of the Irish Nationalist Party at Westminster is dying hard, and a great many members appear to think that they can treat the people with the same disregard as was displayed by their representatives in the days of the Home Rule agitation. The Irish people, however, have undergone radical changes during recent years. They refuse now to elect a man merely because he claims to have a good "national record." They have developed a political and an economic interest in their own affairs, and are beginning to demand that their representatives shall express that interest in the councils of the nation.

If Dail Eireann is to become merely a registration office for the decisions of the Executive Council, our Dominion status will become a farce. So soon as a Government begins to feel itself independent of Parliament there is an end to democratic rule. Hitherto Dail Eireann has failed very largely to secure the confidence of the people. It allowed the vast proposal for the Shannon scheme to be passed through all its stages without a single division; and even in the protracted Budget debates criticism of Mr. Blythe's resolutions was confined to a comparatively small number of members. But for the fact that the Senate does its duty with greater diligence the people's interests would be served extremely badly. Clearly, a change is essential. Members must be given to understand by their constituents that they are neglecting their duties, and that a strict account of their stewardship will be required from them at the next general election. Whether a man supports the Government or the Labour Party, whether he is an "Independent" or a member of the Farmers' group, he is first and foremost a representative of the voters who sent him to Leinster House. We have much sympathy with the suggestion which was made by Mr. Heffernan, of the Farmers' Party, last week to the effect that members who do not attend the Dail ought not to be paid. A system of fines would work wonders in the attendance sheets, and is well worth the serious consideration of the Government.

Imperial Cotton.

The twentieth annual report of the British Cotton-Growing Association is a lesson in the mighty possibilities of imperial co-operation. An estimate of the cotton grown in new fields in the Empire gives last year's quantity as 261,900 bales, valued at over eight and a quarter million pounds. This marks an immense advance over the previous year, when the quantity of cotton was estimated at 179,500 bales of 400 lb. apiece, valued at about five and a half million pounds. The report declares that the British Empire is demonstrated by these years' work to be capable of producing suitable types of cotton in satisfactory bulk; and the extension of cotton-growing to different British lands gives security against acute shortage through the failure of the crop in any special area. Cotton produced in the Punjab has increased by 52 per cent. over the decennial average. Large results are expected from Sind when the new irrigation scheme is completed. Some 5,000 bales a year are being produced in the West Indies. Nigeria and Uganda are now large producers of cotton, and pioneer efforts are being made in Sierra Leone and Kenya. In Tanganyika cotton has gone up from fourth place among exports to second, and in Nyassaland a "record" native crop was produced in 1924. In the Union of South Africa 8,730 bales of lint cotton were produced last year, but a crop yielding 20,000 to 25,000 bales is expected in the present year. The cotton crop of the Sudan has risen from 12,266 to 17,679 bales, but when the Makwar Dam is completed at least double the present crop will be grown. Cotton-growing was begun in Mesopotamia in 1922, and already yields a respectable bulk. In these facts we catch a glimpse of the vast potentialities of the territories of the British Commonwealth for the production of raw materials and the provision of a market for finished goods.

The Law Society.

Nothing in the pages of Dickens is to modern readers more grotesque than those passages which describe Mr. Pickwick's sufferings at the hands of lawyers and the law. Nevertheless, these passages are not caricature. The novelist described the operations of the law with no more than the exaggeration which his art applied to all that he depicted, and we need discount but little if we would gain a true conception of conditions in the days of our great-grandfathers. If to-day the law moves swiftly and justly and the courts need be feared by no honest man, a large share of the thanks must be given to the Law Society, which yesterday celebrated the centenary of its foundation. In the year 1825, a band of some two hundred attorneys and solicitors came together and began the work of bringing discipline into legal operations. To-day the Society numbers some ten thousand members, and receives a nation's gratitude for its toils. The legal trickster has been eliminated; high standards of professional conduct have been universally enforced; legal education has been made thorough and uniform, and again and again advice has been given in the preparation of statutes, so that the nation has derived in the fullest measure the benefits of the accumulated experience of the legal profession. The Law Society is a manifestation of the lofty ideal of service which is the secret of the greatness of Britain. Inspired, not by the desire for gain, but by pride in their work and zeal for the welfare of the community, the members of the Law Society have upheld justice and freedom.

PRINCE ON SPION KOP.

VISIT TO SOLDIERS' GRAVES.

FROM THE PRESS ASSOCIATION'S SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

LADYSMITH, June 2.

Our first engagement in Natal gave the Prince the simple and warm-hearted reception which had been expected, after which a most strenuous day was spent. Motoring out to the scene of the fighting and the battle and siege of Ladysmith, His Royal Highness climbed up the boulder-strewn kopje, and inquired with the keenest interest for every detail of the operations. He listened with the deepest interest to the reminiscences of Admiral Sir Lionel Halsey, who, as a Naval lieutenant, brought up three twelve-pounder Naval guns, and with the third shot obtained a direct hit at the Boer position, completely destroying it.

From there the Prince proceeded to the beautiful little cemetery, where lie the Englishmen who were killed and died in the glorious defence.

In the afternoon the Prince proceeded eighteen miles by motor to Spion Kop, accompanied by a small party only. He climbed a hill on foot, 1,500 feet, with frequent energetic runs, in which no one was successful in keeping up with him through the slippery veldt grass and uneven boulders. He then descended to the other side and climbed Spion Kop, where he walked among the graves of those who died there.

In the gathering dusk we motored on to Colenso, thirty miles away, on the road through the veldt. The road was mostly excellent, but in a few parts there were exciting bumps and swerves while we climbed up the narrow mountain paths, and then descended the steepest gradients, finishing the last few miles of the winding route at top speed through blinding dust, which, once after we had completed a wide horseshoe bend for some two miles, still lay behind us, clearly visible ten feet from the ground. We are now en route for Durban.

LONDON LETTER.

THE KING'S BIRTHDAY.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
TUESDAY NIGHT.

The sixtieth birthday of the King to-morrow will be marked mainly by the ceremony of Trooping the Colour on the Horse Guards' Parade, a display generally watched by many thousands of the public, while many others line the Mall to watch the passing of the King, with all the male members of the Royal Family, and the Queen, accompanied by the princesses. The King will have an exceptionally warm welcome to-morrow; for it has been noted that since his return from his sea voyage his appearances in public have been enthusiastically greeted. The procession to the Parade leaves Buckingham Palace to-morrow at 10.40, and Marshal Foch will ride with the Duke of York, Prince Henry, the Duke of Connaught and Viscount Lascelles immediately behind the King. The brilliant procession will include the military attachés of Spain, Belgium, Japan, Italy, France, the United States, Czecho-Slovakia, Sweden, Rumania, Poland, Siam and Serbia, all in full-dress uniform.

Marshal Foch arrived at Victoria this evening and was received by Colonel Clive Wigram, acting for the King. He will join the Royal Family at lunch to-morrow after the Trooping of the Colour, and on Thursday he will accompany the King and Queen to Olympia to see the Royal Tournament. The performance will be witnessed by all the heads of the Services, several Ambassadors and many other distinguished people.

Trooping the Colour.

Many people are puzzled as to the meaning of Trooping the Colour, since it is a picturesque military ceremony carried out with a care and precision that appear to signify something quite out of the ordinary. It seems that it was originally a guard-mounting parade formed to do honour to the Colour. The Evening Standard says: "The Guards paraded in the first instance without their officers and sergeants, who took up their positions on the saluting base in order to draw lots for their commands and to receive the parole for the day. The Colour was placed on a flank of the parade under charge of two sergeants. On the "assembly" sounding the officers and sergeants moved to their guards at the slow march. Then the right guard marched to the Colour and received it from the sergeant-major, returning in slow time to its position on the right of the line. The present-day ceremony descends directly from old-time custom."

The Masonic Order in Ireland.

It is fully expected that the Duke of Connaught will be present as Grand Master at the quarterly communication of the Grand Lodge of English Freemasons to-morrow at the Central Hall, Westminster, when the Board of General Purposes will ask the Grand Lodge to express its cordial congratulations to the Grand Lodge of Ireland on the celebration of its Bicentenary, which takes place on 4th June. The Grand Lodge of Ireland, as second in antiquity to the Grand Lodge of England, states the motion on the agenda, has exercised so great an influence for good in the 200 years of its corporate existence that every English Freemason will earnestly pray for its long-continued happiness and prosperity. The Board ventures to repeat the ardent hope, expressed by the Grand Lodge of Ireland on the occasion of the English Grand Lodge Bicentenary eight years since, "that the third century of our sister's existence may be still more prosperous than the second has been, and that the close relations which have always existed between English and Irish Freemasons may so continue to the end of time."

A Communist Hoax?

The Glasgow police are said to be sceptical regarding the visit of German and French Communists to the Glasgow Conference, believing that Dr. Stocker, the German, was impersonated by a German resident here. Madame Lebel, the Frenchwoman, it is said, was admitted to the country because the police were not sure that she is a Communist. When the suggestion of impersonation was made to the officials of the Communist Party in London to-day they remarked that it was absolute nonsense, and that they were certain that the Dr. Stocker who spoke in Glasgow is the identical Dr. Stocker, Chairman of the Communist Party in Germany, and that the police have been outmanœuvred for once.

Drastic Suggestion.

The feeling is growing that the Government will have to take more decisive steps regarding the Communists, the Glasgow Conference proving that the authorities are calmly set at defiance. A suggestion is that the "Reds" in this country shall be outlawed, and that the Communist Party be declared an illegal organisation. These steps are somewhat extreme, and it is scarcely likely that they will be adopted, but it is probable that some definite steps will be taken to limit the present activities of these people. In the meanwhile there is to be no relaxation of the decision that all undesirables must leave the country within a given time.

Male Attire.

Since the medical profession has proclaimed that the health of the women of to-day is all the better owing to the thinness of the material used for their clothes the tailors have taken up the question with regard to male attire. Experiments are being made in the weaving districts with a view to securing a light cloth for men's clothes. It is said that a suit will subsequently be evolved which will weigh no more than the summer dress of the average woman, and that the material will allow the rays of the sun to penetrate. The only unpleasant feature about the new cloth is that it will be rather expensive.

Sweepstakes.

The official attitude of the police towards sweepstakes in general, and those organised by the Stock Exchange and the Baltic in particular, is being carefully reviewed, but no decision has yet been arrived at whether any action should be taken. Last year the organisers were informed by the police that such affairs would not be permitted in the future, and the tickets accordingly were only issued this year to members of those institutions. It is no secret, however, that the interest in the tickets did not always rest with the members to whom they were issued. The question which the Home Office has to decide for the police is whether the two events mentioned were purely private concerns, or whether they were public sweepstakes. "Not guilty, but don't do it again," is likely to be the decision.

Tourist Traffic.

Trans-Atlantic passenger traffic this summer promises to be exceptionally heavy in both directions. The advance guard of the American invasion arrived during the week-end, when over 1,500 landed at Southampton from the Leviathan and over 1,100 from the Majestic, and further contingents are expected to follow for the next two months. West-bound traffic is also improving; for the Aquitania on the present voyage has considerably over a thousand passengers, and the bookings for the cheap tourist tickets to America are on a satisfactory scale. The shipping companies probably will try to develop the tourist traffic as much as possible in view of the great reduction in the immigration quota in the United States in 1927.

PLAN BEFORE COMMISSION.

"NO POLITICAL SIGNIFICANCE."

DUBLIN'S TRAFFIC PROBLEM.

THE removal of the Nelson Pillar from its site in Sackville street, Dublin, where it has stood for over a hundred years, is a question that is engaging the attention of the Dublin Borough Commissioners. The reason advanced for taking it down is that its disappearance will facilitate traffic.

The suggestion has been heard frequently of late—by many with amazement, by many with credulity—but as far back as 1890 an effort was made to have the Pillar removed. That effort came to naught, because of a disagreement on the question of a new site. Then, as now, the grievance against Nelson was that he obstructed traffic.

An Irish Times representative yesterday learnt from Mr. Seumas Murphy, one of the Borough Commissioners, whom he interviewed, that in 1808 permission was sanctioned by the Commissioners of Wide Streets to erect the monument where it now stands. The committee in charge of the project intended to have a larger base for the monument, but the amount of space it would take up apparently weighed with the Commissioners, and it was not until a compromise was reached, by the committee agreeing to make the base smaller, that permission was given to proceed with the building.

THE CROSS TRAFFIC.

In 1890 the citizens in Upper Sackville street desired to have the Pillar removed, and a bill for this purpose was promoted.

Mr. Murphy referred to a minute of the Municipal Council of the 3rd November, 1890, showing that the Council passed a resolution "that on account of the great impediment to traffic caused by Nelson's Pillar in its present position, the Municipal Council of the City of Dublin approve of its removal elsewhere, to be placed so as not to interfere with the cross-traffic in the thoroughfare."

The proposal in the bill was to re-erect the Pillar further north in the street, presumably where the Parnell Monument now stands; but the Commissioners of Wide Streets would not approve of the position, and the bill was not proceeded with.

The Commissioners, in the opinion of Mr. Murphy, have all the functions of the Wide Streets Commissioners, and may have the power to remove the Pillar. The matter, he said, was under consideration.

It is held in police quarters that the Pillar is a great obstruction to traffic at the point where it stands. Vehicles coming from North Earl street and going to Henry street have to take a sweep to the left, pass the base of the column, and take a sweep round to the right, whereas, if the Pillar were not in the way, they could go straight on. The same applies to vehicles coming from the opposite direction.

"A DEAD END."

The monument is regarded as a "dead end" of the street, and, in addition, obscures the view. Sackville street has five statues, and, if Nelson Pillar should "go," it is quite probable that the O'Connell Monument, another bulky structure, in the southern portion of the street, will "go" also.

There is no political significance whatever, it is said, in the suggestion to remove Nelson's Pillar. It is merely to obviate the obstruction caused to traffic at the cross-thoroughfare.

The removal of the Pillar would entail a considerable amount of labour, and take probably several months. An attempt to destroy it by explosion in Easter Week, 1916, failed utterly.

A new site, if any, is a matter that cannot be hurriedly decided upon, and consultations between different departments will be necessary before anything definite can be arranged. A great difference of public opinion, too, exists regarding the proposal, and ultimately it might even become a matter for the Government itself.

HOW DUBLIN HAS GROWN.

The population of Dublin in 1891, according to Thom's Directory, was 245,001—a year after the Council's reference to the great impediment to traffic. The population of "Greater Dublin," as given in this year's Thom, is 371,936.

Those who have been in Berlin might find a similarity between the cross-streets in Dublin where Nelson's Pillar now stands and the cross-streets in Berlin where Unter den Linden intersects Friedrichstrasse, if the Pillar were removed.

Entering the Friedrichstrasse from the principal railway station, one has an uninterrupted view of one long street. In the case of Dublin, one coming into Talbot street would have an uninterrupted view of the street until it ends where Mary street joins Capel street. But it is the traffic, and not the view, that influences the minds of those who want to remove Nelson's Pillar.

A DUBLIN RAILWAY DISPUTE.

STRIKE NOTICE WITHDRAWN.

The railway men on the Dublin and South-Eastern Railway branch of the Great Southern Railways met last night in Kingstown to consider the reply from Mr. M. F. Keogh, General Manager, to the statement of grievances which was laid before him by a recent deputation of the men. They agreed unanimously that the reply had met them in a very fair and reasonable manner, and they decided to withdraw the strike notice, which was to have taken effect last evening.

CELTIC CONGRESS.

A Celtic Congress will be held in University College Buildings, Dublin, in the first week of July. Celtic scholars and literary men from Wales, Scotland and the Continent will take part. The position of the Irish, Welsh, Scottish and Breton Gaelic languages will be reviewed, and the language problem generally discussed. Two expeditions to places of archæological and historical interest have been arranged.

5,000 IDLE MOTOR LORRIES.

EFFECT OF LIVERPOOL CARTERS' STRIKE.

IRISH PORTS NOT AFFECTED.

Five thousand motor lorries and vans were idle on the Merseyside yesterday, owing to the strike of 7,000 motor men and carters in Liverpool and district against a wage reduction of two shillings a week. The work of the Mersey port was not seriously interfered with, as permits were issued to drivers who are unaffected by the dispute, and to a large number of men whose employers have agreed to maintain the old rates. There was a slight dislocation of work at the docks, where dockers declined to handle goods from carters who had no permits.

An early collapse of the dispute is anticipated, many owners not seeking to enforce the reduction.

WORK AS USUAL.

The strike had not affected traffic at the port of Dublin up to yesterday, and a representative of one of the shipping companies expressed the belief that its ill-effects would scarcely spread to this side of the Channel.

"However," he added, "it is too soon yet to say if we are likely to become involved."

An official of the City of Cork Steam Packet Company stated yesterday afternoon in Cork that up to the present the strike had no effect locally, but it was likely, if the dockers at Liverpool became involved, that the trade of Cork port would be seriously affected.

"So far as our ships are concerned," he said, "we have had no inconvenience. A steamship which left Cork on Saturday is being discharged at Liverpool to-day. We have put no restrictions on the shipment of traffic, but if the dockers become affected we will have to suspend the sailing of the Liverpool boat."

SAILING SUSPENDED.

The Clyde Shipping Company's Waterford agency has announced the cancellation of the Waterford to Liverpool sailings to-day, owing to the Liverpool strike.

HYDROPLANES FOR SPITZBERGEN.

NORWEGIAN RELIEF EXPEDITION.

BY WIRELESS FROM THE FARM.

SPITZBERGEN, June 1.

The situation is unchanged. There was no sign of the airmen when the Farm returned to Wellman's Bay from King's Bay this morning. Although Amundsen's 14-day limit will not have expired until Thursday, we have given up the hope of seeing the explorers fly back, and the patrolling of the ice edge will begin on Thursday.

According to reports from the Hobby, the edge of the Polar ice for several miles inwards is exceedingly rough and twisted. This, Arctic travellers say, is most difficult to cross. Then follows drift ice.

After three days of thick weather, there is now clear, bright sunshine.

It is believed that, as it is most probable that the planes were damaged on landing at the Pole, the airmen are now bound to Cape Columbia on foot, since prior to his departure Captain Amundsen expressed fear concerning the landing, and was most careful in supervising the purchase and loading of the marching equipment.

Aeroplane experts also feel that the planes were probably damaged in landing, since, as all was ship-shape at the start, engine trouble seems improbable.

RELIEF PLANS.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

OSLO, Tuesday.

The Norwegian Cabinet this morning decided to send a small relief expedition to search for Roald Amundsen, the explorer.

Two hydroplanes belonging to the Norwegian Navy, with the necessary personnel, are to be sent to Spitzbergen to take part in the patrol service towards the Pole.

If no news concerning Amundsen arrives in the interim, the hydroplanes will be placed aboard the steamer Ingertre at Horten on Friday, for transport to Spitzbergen.

The Foreign Office to-day received information through the Norwegian Ambassador in Paris that the French explorer, M. Charcot, with his ship, Pourquoi Pas, has offered his services in assisting in the search for Amundsen. The Norwegian Foreign Office has accepted the French explorer's offer, with great thanks.

SPOKE IN ESPERANTO.

WOMEN COMMUNISTS BAFFLE POLICE.

The Communist Conference at Glasgow closed amid scenes of excitement last night when the police raided the St. Mungo Hall, where the women delegates were deliberating in private session. No arrests were made.

A strong force of police drove in taxi cabs to the Hall, and their appearance created consternation in the street. Large crowds soon assembled and watched the police, who rapidly took up positions at various entrances to the building, so as to ensure that no one could escape.

They were accompanied by the alien officer. When they approached the entrance to the Hall where the women delegates were assembled, the male members of the Communists' Executive raised objection to such a large number of police entering the Hall, and accordingly only four, with the alien officer, entered.

The women rose and sang the Internationale. When they had finished the song the alien officer asked for their names and addresses, but on the advice of the male members of the Executive the women declined to comply with the request.

The alien officer then said that he wanted to hear everyone of them speak. One young woman addressed him in Esperanto, and a number of the Scotish delegates shouted "its a braw, bricht, moonlicht nicht the nicht, were a richt ye ken."

The police were nonplussed at this unexpected turn of events, and after fully half an hour's examination of the Hall they left. When they had gone Mrs. Crawford, who presided, remarked to the Pressmen who were present that it was a sporting finish to their conference, in any case.

CO-OPERATIVE CONGRESS.

HOME DEVELOPMENT POLICY.

The Co-Operative Congress at Southport yesterday adopted a resolution which declared that the Food Council would not check "profiteering" unless it was preceded by legislation controlling trusts and combines.

The Congress declared in favour of a vigorous home development policy to lessen unemployment, and of full Parliamentary control of foreign palicy. Mr. Neil McLean, M.P., said that Mr. Austen Chamberlain was an expert at answering evasively. He objected to Mr. Chamberlain's skill being exercised in a way likely to put thousands of young men on the battlefield.

BIRTHDAY HONOURS.

ONE PEERAGE IN A SHORT LIST.

FEW IRISH NAMES.

A KNIGHTHOOD FOR "PUNCH" ARTIST.

SIR HAMILTON HARTY.

A long list of honours in connection with the King's sixtieth birthday was issued last night. Most of the titles and decorations were stated to be for "political and public service," and there were few well-known names in the list, and fewer of Irish interest. Among the recipients who are best known to the general public are:—

Sir Alexander Wood-Renton, the Chairman of the Irish Compensation Commission, receives the Order of St. Michael and St. George. He was born in Fife, and has held many Government appointments.

Mr. Hamilton Harty, who is to receive a honorary degree at Trinity College, Dublin, this month, is made a Knight. Born at Hillsborough, County Down, in 1880, he married Agnes Nicholls, the well-known singer, in 1904. He has been permanent conductor of the Hallé Orchestra, Manchester, since 1920. His "Irish Symphony" was recently performed in London and Belfast.

Mr. Bernard Partridge, the famous Punch artist, who was born in London in 1861, is made a Knight. His father, the late Professor Richard Partridge, was President of the Royal College of Surgeons. The new Knight was educated at Stonyhurst College, and before joining the staff of Punch, in 1891, he designed stained glass windows and did decorative painting. He was at one time on the stage.

Mr. Barry V. Jackson, who was born in Birmingham, has been a liberal patron of the stage for many years. He financed the Birmingham Repertory Theatre, and recently he produced in London Mr. Rutland Brougham's beautiful work, "The Immortal Hour."

Madame Albani, who receives an Order of the British Empire, was born in Montreal in 1852, studied music in Milan, and made her début in Messina in 1870. She has sung in opera and on the concert platform in all parts of the world.

Major Richard Whieldon Barnett, who has received the honour of Knighthood, has been member of Parliament for St. Pancras, South-West, since 1918. He is the eldest son of the late Richard Barnett, M.D., of Ardmore, Holywood, County Down. A noted rifle shot, he has represented Ireland on twenty-seven occasions in the Elcho Shield competition, and twice made a record score. He was one of twelve representatives of the United Kingdom at the Olympic Games in 1908. A member of the Council of the National Rifle Association, he was champion chess player of Ireland (1886-1889). Major Barnett was musketry officer of the 41st Infantry Brigade (1914), and Staff Officer for Musketry (graded as Brigade Major) of the Ulster Division (November, 1914), and of the 40th Division (1915). He designed the Barnett Optical Sight for the short magazine Lee Enfield rifle, was mentioned in the Secretary for War's list, February, 1917, and was promoted Brevet-Major on January 1, 1919, "for valuable services rendered in connection with the war." A prominent Freemason, he was President of the Board of Grand Stewards of England (1909-1910).

Mr. Joseph Henry Greer, who has been created a Knight Commander of the Royal Victorian Order, is the eldest son of the late Lieutenant-General Henry Harpur Greer, C.B., of The Grange, County Tyrone. Educated at Wellington and Sandhurst, he served as Captain in the Highland Light Infantry. His residence is at Curragh Grange, Co. Kildare, and he is a member of the Turf, the Army and Navy, and the Naval and Military Clubs.

Mr. Andrew Ryan, C.M.G., who has been created Knight Commander of the Order of the British Empire, is His Majesty's Consul-General at Rabat, Morocco. He is the son of Mr. Edward Ryan, of Ronayn's Court, Douglas, County Cork, is a graduate of the Royal University of Ireland, and has had a long and distinguished career in the Consular service.

The only Peerage is that bestowed on Baron Bearsted—Sir Marcus Samuel—who was created a Baron in 1921 for "public and national services."

MASONIC FESTIVAL.

BI-CENTENARY OF IRISH GRAND LODGE.

TO-MORROW'S SERVICE.

The festival to celebrate the bi-centenary of the foundation of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Ireland will begin with a Thanksgiving Service in St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, at three o'clock to-morrow afternoon, when the Primate, the Grand Chaplain, will preach.

The demand for seats has been so great that the Cathedral could be filled three or four times, and the Committee in charge of the arrangements has been obliged to limit the number of members of the Craft to whom tickets of admission can be issued. There will be present not only representatives of Lodges from all the Masonic provinces of Ireland, but also representatives from the Grand Lodges of England and Scotland and from the Masonic jurisdictions overseas, with which the Grand Lodge of Ireland is in fraternal communication, including India, Canada, Western Australia, Denmark, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, California, Maryland and New Jersey.

THE PROCESSION.

The visitors and the Grand Officers will assume their insignia in the Lady Chapel of the Cathedral, while the other brethren will meet in St. Patrick's Schoolhouse, a procession subsequently being formed from the Lady Chapel to the allotted places in the Cathedral.

All vehicles going to St. Patrick's Cathedral in connection with the Service must enter Patrick's Close from Kevin street, where they will be parked.

There will be a Communication of Grand Lodge in the Freemason's Hall at 6.30 o'clock the same evening, when a portrait of the Right Hon. the Earl of Donoughmore, K.P., Most Worshipful Grand Master, will be unveiled. This picture is from the portrait painted for Grand Lodge by Fiddes Watt, R.S.A. At the conclusion of the Grand Lodge meeting a festival banquet will be held in the Hall.

On Friday visits will be made to the Masonic Female Orphan School, Ballsbridge, and to the Masonic Orphan Boys' School, Clonskeagh, two great institutions which are fine testimonials to the charitable character of Freemasonry, and give at least some insight into its tenets. The Masonic Female Orphan School was established in 1792 for the purpose of providing a shelter for the female orphans of Freemasons. It is supported solely by voluntary contributions. The number of pupils in the school is 105. The Masonic Orphan Boys' School was established in 1867, for the purpose of maintaining and educating the sons of deceased Freemasons. It also is supported solely by voluntary contributions. The number of pupils in the school is 101.

At 8 p.m. on Friday there will be a meeting of the Grand Lodge of Instruction.

Vehicles going to Freemasons' Hall tomorrow evening and on Friday evening will enter Molesworth street from Dawson street.

SOME FORMER GRAND MASTERS.

Many distinguished names have been associated with Irish Freemasonry during its long history since Richard, the first Earl of Rosse, was installed Grand Master, in 1725, with "the gold trowel by the black ribbon about his neck." Among his successors were James, fourth Baron Kingston; Viscount Netterville, Viscount Kingsland, Viscount Tyrone, Viscount Mountjoy, Viscount Doneraile, Baron Tullamore, Baron Southwell, Viscount Allen, Baron Kingsborough, Lord George Sackville, Lord Newtownbutler, Viscount Moore, the Earl of Charleville, the Earl of Westmeath, the Earl of Cavan, Viscount Dunluce, Viscount Bellfield, the Earl of Mornington, the Duke of Leinster, the Earl of Antrim, Baron Muskerry, Viscount Kilwarlin, Viscount Glerawley and the first and second Dukes of Abercorn.

The present Grand Master, the Earl of Donoughmore, has held the office since 1913.

NOT DOCTOR STOCKER.

COMMUNISTS HOAX THE POLICE.

The Criminal Investigation Department of the Glasgow Police announced last night their conviction that it was not Dr. Stocker, of the German Reichstag, who addressed the Communist Conference on Monday.

A minute description of the individual who spoke is in possession of the police, and it is announced that Monday's visitor was a much smaller man than the real Dr. Stocker and of different build. Dr. Stocker's identification was secured when he attended a Communist meeting in Glasgow last summer.

Reuter's Correspondent at Cologne is informed in authoritative Communist circles that the report that Herr Stocker spoke at Glasgow Communist Congress is untrue. Neither Herr Stocker nor any other German Communist went to Glasgow in consequence of the British official embargo.

LORD LEVERHULME'S ELABORATE WILL.

BEQUESTS TO MEMBERS OF THE FIRM.

The elaborate provisions made by the late Lord Leverhulme for the disposal of his estate are indicated in a summary of the will issued by the executors.

The testator appointed his son (the present Viscount Leverhulme) and Mr. H. R. Greenhalgh, Mr. F. D'Arcy Cooper, and Mr. John McDowell to be his executors and trustees; and after giving each of them a pecuniary legacy he gave all the remainder of his property real and personal to his son, the present Viscount Leverhulme, absolutely, except that out of the holding of the issued ordinary share capital of Lever Brothers, Ltd., of which the testator was entitled to dispose, he set aside and appropriated one half—viz., 120,000 shares of £10 each of the total number of the fully paid Ordinary shares of that company to be retained by the trustees as a special fund for the purposes defined by the will.

These purposes were in the first place to pay certain legacies and annuities to persons in his personal employment at the date of his death or to whom he had been accustomed to make pecuniary allowances, and subject to these payments the income of the special fund is directed to be divided into 100 parts, of which 10 parts are to be paid to the Viscount Leverhulme for the time being, 30 parts are to be divided amongst the chairman and other members of the special committee of the Board of Lever Brothers, Ltd., 20 parts are to be divided amongst the directors of Lever Brothers, Ltd., and the chairmen of associated companies in various proportions; 20 parts are to be applied for the purposes of artistic encouragement, and the remaining 20 parts for charities connected with commercial travellers, grocers, or chemists, their wives, widows, and children.

Further provisions are made regarding the ultimate distribution of the capital of the special fund.

The testator directed that the estate duty on the special fund should be paid out of the income of that fund, and consequently no distribution of income under the trust is likely for some time.

WETTEST MAY IN FIFTY YEARS.

Mr. Hum Bland writes that 5.30 inches of rain fell at Blandsfort, Abbeyleix, during May. Records have been kept for the last fifty-one years, and during that period the May rainfall has exceeded five inches on only one other occasion—in 1916, when 5.10 inches was recorded.

Do not believe that America is any more wonderful than our own country.—Lord Riddell.

HEAT WAVE IN AMERICA.

MANY DEATHS.

STORM LIFTS A MOTOR CAR.

INTENSE HUMIDITY IN NEW YORK.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

CHICAGO, Tuesday.

Chicago experienced the hottest June 1st ever recorded in its history. The thermometer reached an unprecedented height of 91 degrees Fahrenheit. Many deaths are reported.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

CHICAGO, Tuesday.

The terrific heat wave in the Middle West has taken its first toll of lives to the number of about twenty people, and the storm which followed added to the death list.

Four of the deaths were caused directly by lightning, and nine persons were drowned in an attempt to gain relief from the heat.

Two men are reported to have been killed in Missouri by being flung on the roadway out of their motor car, which was lifted up by the force of the storm.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

NEW YORK.

New York as well as the Middle West is suffering from the heat wave, the mercury climbing 14 points between 7 a.m. and 3 p.m., when it reached 87, and it is still climbing.

The humidity is intense, causing many prostrations in New York, while three deaths have occurred in the neighbouring State of New Jersey.

AMERICAN SHOT IN SHANGHAI.

PATROL ATTACKED BY RIOTERS.

SHANGHAI, Tuesday.

Numerous foreign patrols maintained order in the central district until half-past six this evening, when shots were fired at a mounted patrol of American volunteers from "The New World," a modern Chinese variety theatre in the centre of the international settlement. An American trooper was wounded in the thigh and his horse killed.

A Lewis gunner replied to the fire, and the American volunteers and troopers of the Light Horse forced their way into the building, which was crowded with rioters, and rounded up three hundred men who were taken to the police station, but afterwards released. One Chinese was seriously wounded and several others slightly injured.

Fifty marines have been landed from an Italian cruiser, together with a force of Americans from United States destroyers, constituting an advance guard of two thousand sailors and marines on their way to Shanghai in accordance with instructions from the Legations in Pekin.

POSITION GROWING WORSE.

11 p.m.

The strike, which is generally only partial, chiefly affects the Japanese cotton mills, though some of the tramway, electrical and other municipal employés have gone out. Estimates this evening place the number of the strikers at thirty thousand. Many minor assaults, chiefly against Japanese, are reported to-night.

The demands of the Chinese Foreign Commissioner at Shanghai and the attitude of the Chinese Government have had the inevitable effect of encouraging the rioters, with the result that the position is steadily growing worse.—(Reuter.)

BAKU OILFIELDS SEIZED.

SOVIET DRIVING OUT THE NATIVES.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Tuesday.

It is reported here that the Soviet Government has seized the Baku oilfields from the "Allied" Republic of Azerbadjian. By a secret decree, dated March 17th, the Soviet Government announces that the capital of the Soviet Republic of Azerbadjian has been moved from Baku to Kendje, and an autonomous régime established in the City of Baku and the surrounding oilfields. All the natives of Azerbadjian working in the Baku oilfields are being rapidly replaced by Russians, until to-day the Azerbadjianese constitute only 22 p.c. of the working force. The Soviet Government has been taking practically the whole of the Baku oil for several years without paying compensation to the Allied Republic of Azerbadjian, but the success of the Turkish Nationalist movement has created an intense independence movement among the four million Turkish-speaking Tartars and Azerbadjianese, and the Soviet Government wants to drive all the local natives out of the oilfields and make the latter absolutely secure against strikes, fires, and sabotage.

The Soviet engineers have been badly scared by the recent fires in the oilfields, and they fear that if a revolt breaks out the oilfields may be completely destroyed. The Soviet authorities are sending a host of trusted Communist officials from Moscow to establish an autonomous Russian Soviet administration at Baku, which will be directly under Moscow's control.

COMMUNISTS ARRESTED IN EGYPT.

CAIRO, Tuesday.

Two more Communists have been arrested. The newspapers give some particulars regarding the British propagandist who is reported to have left Egypt a fortnight ago. They say that he came to Egypt from India, via the Near East. He has since been reported in Morocco.—(Reuter.)

PRINCE GEORGE IN SHANGHAI.

SHANGHAI, Tuesday.

Prince George had dinner at the Consulate-General yesterday, and to-day lunched at the Shanghai Club, at which he met all the most important local residents. He has spent most of his time these two days ashore, playing tennis and bowls at the country club. The Prince leaves for Wei-Hai-Wei this afternoon.—(Reuter.)

IRISH-SPEAKING TEACHERS.

According to a statement made in the Dail yesterday on behalf of the Minister for Education, there are 11,050 teachers, exclusive of members of religious communities, employed in model and National schools in the Free State. Of these 2,283 hold ordinary certificates in Irish, 1,948 hold bi-lingual certificates, and 275 hold the ard teastas.

LATE NEWS.

ATLANTIC PASSAGE RATES.

GENERAL REDUCTIONS.

The Times says:—Revised passage rates are now being issued by the Transatlantic shipping companies. They apply to the services from this country to both the United States and Canada, and take effect as from the beginning of this week (June 1), but as Monday was a bank holiday, the first bookings on the new scales would have been made yesterday. One of the principal changes is a reduction in the minimum saloon rates by the leading "cabin" ships from £33 5s. to £31. The popularity of this type of ship has been increasing greatly in recent years, especially in the Canadian route, the distinctive feature being that there is only one class of saloon accommodation instead of a first and a second class. The minimum first-class rate by the largest liners in the New York service has been reduced for the winter season, which extends from November 1st to June 30th, from £59 15s. to £56, and for the summer season, which begins on July 1st and ends on October 31st, from £65 15s. to £61 10s. All the ships in the Transatlantic service are classed for passage rating purposes, so that the rates for the Mauretania, for instance, are rather lower than those for the Aquitania and Berengaria, which are of greater size.

The minimum second class rate by the largest ships has been lowered from £34 to £31 10s. In fact, reductions are general, except in the case of the third class rates, which continue to range from about £18 15s. to £20. Periodical readjustments in the rates by the various liners are usual, but in the present instance the recent improvement in the sterling rate of exchange on New York is known to have been a factor. It had become practicable for prospective passengers from this country to save something by cabling to the United States for passages to be secured there and paid for in dollars, and an adjustment in the rates in this country, so as to make them identical with those quoted on the other side of the Atlantic, had seemed desirable. So far the outlook for the Transatlantic passenger saloon trade this season seems distinctly promising.

FRANCE AND SECURITY.

THE NEW NOTE TO GERMANY.

The French Ministry of Foreign Affairs has completed a new draft of the Note to Germany on the proposed guarantee pact to cover the Rhine frontier, announces The Times Paris Correspondent. The text follows the lines of the British memorandum very closely, the only differences being verbal ones made necessary by the characteristic qualities of the French language. It will be communicated to the British Government, and will have to be approved by the French Council of Ministers, which may possibly deal with it next Thursday. M. Briand's decision to accept the British version of the pact is strengthened by the fact that no great opposition has developed against it here.

Prominent writers of the Nationalist camp are now ready to accept it as the maximum France may ever hope to obtain from Great Britain. It is understood that even M. Poincaré, although he is averse from the idea of any mutual pact with Germany, will not oppose the guarantee pact, as accepted by M. Briand in the British version, giving France the right to assist her Allies on the Eastern frontier of Germany. The only condition M. Poincaré wants to make is that all the terms shall be public property, without any secrecy about them whatsoever.

THE REPUBLIC OF MEDICINE.

The visit of the American and Canadian doctors is an event of very happy augury, observes the Westminster Gazette. Many bonds of friendship will, no doubt, be forged in these days which will draw the individuals of the two countries, and to some extent the countries themselves, together, and tend to found what Sir John Bland-Sutton so happily described as "the Republic of Medicine." When Sir Thomas Horder urged the necessity of concentrating upon the means of raising the bodily resistance he was indicating the line upon which most of the victories in the warfare with disease have recently been won. The pace of life is undoubtedly swifter, and with the acceleration appear new threats to health and new types of disease. But, fortunately, recent years have shown how powerful are the simplest things of life. Sunlight when its rays are not filtered by smoke or glass, air when it is not fouled by fumes and made stagnant by the shelter of cities, common foods when their best constituents are not removed by boiling or counteracted by preservatives appear to be the main demands of perfect health. Medical and social work must aim at assuring an adequate supply of these simple needs to everyone.

BIRTHDAY HONOURS.

The Morning Post says:—Agreeably to the new practice, what is known as the Prime Minister's list in the Birthday Honours is commendably short and unexceptionable. Altogether it is possible to congratulate not only the recipients of these Birthday Honours, but the Prime Minister who is responsible for them, and to find another proof that at last we have definitely broken with the pernicious practice of distributing honours wholesale and without discrimination, as far as personal worth and public service are concerned.

FATAL MOTOR CAR ACCIDENT.

The Daily Herald reports that in Scar Lane, Thurstonland, near Huddersfield, last night, the wheel of a two-seater motor car came off and the car struck a telegraph pole. Mr. W. B. Topham was killed, and a woman passenger had a rib fractured. The driver was slightly injured.

MURDERED BRITISH SAILOR.

VENICE, Tuesday.

The trial of seven persons accused of murdering an English sailor, named Edward Albert Tuchey, and of violently assaulting and robbing three other British soldiers on the night of July 27, last year, concluded this evening. One of the accused, Francesco Torgoli, a youth of 18, was sentenced to 13 years' solitary confinement, to be followed by two years' police supervision; four of the others received sentences ranging from three to seven years' solitary confinement. Two of the men were acquitted.—(Reuter.)

NEW RECORDER OF BURNLEY.

The King, on the recommendation of the Home Secretary, has been pleased to appoint Mr. A. R. Kennedy, K.C., M.P., to be Recorder of Burnley, in place of Mr. T. B. Leigh, who resigned on appointment as a County Court Judge.

PRINCE HENRY IN NORWICH.

Prince Henry visited Norwich yesterday to open new premises of a lads' club, founded by Chief Constable Mr. Dain, and to present to the winner a cup, given in 1911 by King George, for the winner of the one lap cycle race at the Whit week sports held annually at Norwich. This has been held for two years by J. E. Sibbit, of Manchester, who again secured the trophy yesterday.

The Prince on arrival was met by the Earl of Leicester and Mr. Dain, and was afterwards entertained to luncheon by the Lord Mayor. Declaring the premises open, Prince Henry said that the club had been a great success, and had taught boys to look on the police as their friends. The Prince added: "The police and boys are on such friendly terms that I should not be surprised to hear that in the near future the city police have ceased to exist owing to good behaviour of the rising generation of the citizens."

MARSHAL FOCH IN LONDON.

Marshal Foch, who will ride in the King's birthday parade to-day and afterwards lunch with Their Majesties at Buckingham Palace, arrived in London yesterday afternoon. He was greeted by, among others, Colonel Clive Wigram, Assistant Private Secretary to the King; General the Earl of Cavan, and the French Ambassador.

The excitement of Monday's keen cricket between Lancashire and Yorkshire at Old Trafford proved too much for Mr. Oldroyd, a well-known Manchester business man and an old member of the Lancashire County Club, who died from heart failure after watching the struggle for the first innings lead.

ONLY TWELVE PRESENT.

LAXITY OF DAIL MEMBERS.

BIG ESTIMATES PASSED.

THE PHŒNIX PARK BILL.

ALTHOUGH the Dail yesterday was called upon to sanction the expenditure of millions of pounds, very few members attended.

At one time, when a vote of £3,675,000 for compensation was under discussion, there were only twelve members in the House—five members of the Government Party, three members of the Labour Party, three members of the Farmers' Party, and one Independent.

Mr. Thomas Johnson suggested that such a huge sum should not be dealt with when there was such a meagre attendance, and that progress should be reported. The ringing of the division bell, however, brought other members into the Chamber, and Mr. Johnson's proposal was defeated by 20 votes to 10.

The Phœnix Park Bill received a second reading. It gives the Commissioners of Public Works power to allot areas for games, and in certain circumstances—the holding of a motor race, for instance—to allow a charge to be made for admission to certain parts.

An estimate of £115,000 for relief work was passed. Mr. Blythe explained that more money would be spent this year than last year in providing work. Some of the sums available were—About £600,000 for the Shannon scheme, £419,000 for public buildings, £750,000 for road work, and £330,000 for housing schemes.

Mr. Baxter asserted that last year political tests were applied in the distribution of the money. Mr. Blythe repudiated the charge, and said that he never would stand for jobbery.

PHŒNIX PARK.

NEW POWERS FOR COMMISSIONERS OF PUBLIC WORKS.

Professor O'Sullivan moved the second reading of the Phœnix Park Bill. He quoted Section 3, which provides that the Commissioners of Public Works shall maintain the park for the general purpose of the recreation and enjoyment of the public, and that they may maintain particular portions of it for any special purpose for which the same or other portions of the park have hitherto been used, or such like purposes as the Minister shall sanction.

The purpose of the bill, he said, was to secure the more effective enjoyment of the park by the people, and to set aside portions of it for games, sports, etc., as hitherto. Another purpose of the bill was to give authority to the Commissioners to make by-laws for the preservation of order in the park, and to impose penalties for breach of such by-laws.

The bill also suggested that it should be left to the good sense of the Government to give the Commissioners power to enable a portion of the park to be railed off for races that might be held under the auspices of the Motor Union, from which portion the public might be excluded for the time being, and for entrance to which a fee might be charged.

A LIMIT WANTED.

Mr. Johnson said that he could imagine circumstances where it might be legitimate and reasonable to charge for admission to certain parts of the park, but there should be some limit to the proposal.

Mr. Woulfe said that he objected to the proposal to give the Commissioners power to charge fees for admission to the park.

Mr. A. Byrne asked whether it was proposed to grant any individual or company a lease of any portion of the park. He would regard such a thing as deplorable.

Mr. Sears said that the public rights to the Phœnix Park should be jealously guarded, but the Minister was right in securing to the Commissioners the right to let the park for short periods.

Professor O'Sullivan, in reply, said that the power to charge would be carefully exercised by the Commissioners. A strong case would have to be made before permission to charge fees would be granted.

The second reading was passed.

LAND BONDS.

BRITISH GUARANTEE APPROVED.

On the resumption of the Committee stage of the Land Bond Bill, Mr. Johnson's amendment to delete the words "British currency" was defeated. The object of the amendment was to relieve the State of the responsibility for the payment of the interest and the redemption of the bonds in sterling.

An amendment by Mr. Wilson, to the effect that bonds might be redeemed by drawings, or as the Minister of Finance might direct, was moved by Mr. Conor Hogan.

Mr. Blythe said that they were asked to take a certain line with a view to letting the bonds fall below their face value; but the State could not afford to adopt sharp practices that any disreputable money-lender might use. Deputy Wilson asked them to strike out the provision for the redemption of their bonds at par, with the idea that they might be made to depreciate. That would be a sharp and shabby practice, which they could not follow.

Mr. Gorey said that it would be good business to keep the bonds as near par as possible. When bonds were issued by the British Government they fell, and it would be good business, from the State point of view, to buy these bonds when they went into the market, and thereby keep up the price. To do so could not be alleged to be bad business or sharp practice.

Mr. Blythe said that if the bonds sank below par, the natural thing for the Government to do would be to use Government funds to buy them up in the market, and so appreciate their value.

The Committee stage of the bill was passed.

FINANCIAL RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Blythe moved a resolution declaring that the annual value of buildings, under Schedules A and B of the Income Tax, 1918, shall, for the purposes of the ascertainment of tax, be taken to be the full amount of the valuation thereof for the time being in force under the Valuation Acts. He said that it was in order to remove some doubt that existed that he moved the resolution, and to ensure that the revenue should not suffer.

The resolution was passed.

The Minister next moved a resolution fixing a duty at a flat rate of a penny per pound, and of tenpence per gallon on liquids, on preparations containing sugar. Hitherto, he said, the rate of 11½d. per cwt. was imposed. That necessitated the taking of samples and the supplying of formulæ. Under the resolution that source of trouble would be removed, not only from importers, but also from the Customs' officials.

The resolution was passed.

Mr. Blythe moved a resolution to impose the following licence duties on firearms after the 31st July, 1925:—

For a firearm certificate for a rifle or a pistol or revolver, with or without ammunition therefor, 5s.

For a firearm certificate for a shot-gun, with or without ammunition therefor, limited to use for killing animals or birds other than game on land occupied by the person to whom the certificate is granted, 5s.

For any other firearm certificate—For one such certificate, £2.

Where two or more such certificates are granted to the same person (not necessarily at the same time) and expire on the same date, for the first such certificate, £2.

For the second and every subsequent certificate, 5s.

COMPILING A REGISTER.

He said the idea was that there should be a register of all the firearms in the country. He thought that it was a provision that would appeal to the House in view of the experience that they had had in recent times.

Mr. Gorey asked that the 5s. fee for the second gun should be withdrawn. In the country those who had guns for the killing of vermin used them more for the killing of game, and that was why the country was denuded of game. Drastic steps should be taken against the persons who unlawfully killed game.

Mr. Johnson moved an amendment to delete from the schedule the £2 rate, and to substitute therefor £1.

Mr. Blythe said that the view of the Department of Justice was that it was really the possessors of the 10s. licence who did the damage to game. The £1 licence would be only the equivalent of the 10s. licence owing to the fall in the value of money. It was to restrict the number of people who carried guns, as far as possible, that the scale had been devised. There were two or three points which he would like to consider with the Minister for Justice, but, without consulting the Minister for Justice, he could not consent to any substantial alteration in the amount laid down.

The amendment was defeated.

Mr. Blythe moved that an excise duty of £1 be charged every person registered to carry a firearm from 1st August, 1925. The motion passed.

A motion that £1 excise duty be levied on every person taking out or renewing a licence for the sale of salmon or trout after April 1st, 1925, was also passed.

ESTIMATES.

£3,675,000 FOR COMPENSATION

The House then resumed the consideration of the vote of £3,675,300 for property losses compensation.

Mr. Johnson said that there was a complete refusal to consider any claim for compensation in respect to Liberty Hall premises for damage done during Easter week, on the ground that it was outside the terms of reference.

Mr. Blythe said that he could only promise that he would look into the matter.

Mr. Morrissey asked the Minister to see that claims for compensation were settled more quickly than had been the case. He instanced a case in which the Nenagh Transport Union in 1920 claimed £24 compensation for damage to premises. About a fortnight ago the secretary was informed that they had been awarded £12, and was asked to fill up a form. He did so, and on May 27 he got a letter asking him to return the form, with a statement showing the date and nature of the loss or damage, the amount claimed, and the name of the person who lodged the application.

Mr. Blythe said that he had no idea of what caused the delay, but generally there was very little delay in the Department of Finance, and awards were expeditiously settled. In the case that Mr. Morrissey referred to the claim was lodged over four years ago, but apparently it was only dealt with by the Compensation (Ireland) Commission recently.

ONLY TWELVE PRESENT.

Mr. Johnson drew attention to the fact that there were only twelve members in the House—three Labour, three Farmers, one Independent and five Government representatives. He did not think it right that such a large estimate should be considered by such a small House, and he moved to report progress.

Mr. Blythe remarked that the quality of the attendance made up for the deficiency in numbers.

Mr. Conlon—Baldoyle races. (Laughter.)

Mr. Gorey—Challenge a division on it.

Mr. Johnson said that he was quite serious. They should not discuss such a large estimate while the attendance was so meagre.

A division was challenged.

The ringing of the bell brought other members into the House, and the motion to report progress was defeated by 20 votes to 10.

The vote was agreed to.

Mr. Blythe moved for a vote of £32,000 for personal injuries compensation, sub-divided as follows:—£22,500 in the case of final decrees under the Criminal Injuries Acts in respect of death or injuries sustained within the period 21st January, 1919, and 11th July, 1921; £9,000 in respect of death or injuries sustained between 21st July, 1919, and 11th July, 1921, within the terms of reference to the Compensation (Personal Injuries) Committee, and £500 ex gratia payments sanctioned by the British Government in respect of injuries sustained by certain non-combatants in Easter Week, 1916.

He said that the Committee set up by the Executive Council, to investigate the personal injuries claims had a very heavy and thankless task, and had discharged it most conscientiously.

The estimate was passed.

PENSIONS.

Mr. Blyth moved an estimate of £1,756,827, less the vote on account, £588,000, in respect of superannuation and retired allowances. The total estimate for the year 1924-25 was £1,717,365. He said that 470 officers had been discharged on the change of Government. These included resident magistrates 36, petty sessions clerks 305, Crown Solicitors 23, Marlborough street Training College (which was closed) 53; various Local Government Board officials, such as commissioners, inspectors, auditors, etc., 12; officials of the Congested District Board, 2; Metropolitan police magistrate, 1; messengers and cleaners in the Supreme Court, 14; miscellaneous office, 23.

There had been, he said, from time to time a great deal of discussion in regard to these discharges, and it had been suggested that a policy of wholesale discharges was being pursued with the object merely of providing places for other people. Under the circumstances, it would have been impossible to pursue any other course in the matter of the old resident magistrates and petty sessions clerks, because if those men had been kept in the service it would have been difficult for the Civic Guard to do their duty. As to the Crown Solicitors, it was simply a question of getting the confidence of the new Courts, so that it was necessary to get a new body of State solicitors to carry on. He thought the figures demonstrated that there was no such thing as dismissal for the purpose of putting in favoured people.

POST OFFICE AND POLICE.

From the Post Office 95 persons had retired, the big majority of them having taken advantage of the terms of the Treaty. Provision was made for the pensions already granted to 459 members of the old R.I.C., who resigned, or were dismissed, and some cases were still under consideration. The latest figures showed that up to the present 568 members of the Dublin Metropolitan Police had received awards under the Treaty. They included one Chief Commissioner, one Assistant Commissioner, discharged; the remainder were 11 inspectors, 86 station-sergeants, 95 sergeants and 434 constables. It was estimated that £1,250,000 would cover the amount required, for the liability would be reduced by the re-employment of some disbanded members.

The estimate was passed.

A vote of £68,000 in respect of rates on Government property was agreed to.

SECRET SERVICE.

On a vote of £13,000 for Secret Services, Mr. Blythe stated that the amount had been reduced by £15,000, and he hoped that next year the sum would again be substantially reduced.

Mr. Johnson raised the question of the administration of expenditure under this head. The money, he understood, was disbursed on the certificate of a Minister, subject to the sanction of the Minister for Finance. He thought that there ought to be a regulation that no money should be disbursed unless sanctioned by the Executive Council.

Mr. Blythe said that the practice, which he regarded as necessary, was that there should be two Ministers involved, of whom one was the Minister for Finance. The sanction of the latter was not automatic. So far the great bulk of the money had been spent through the Army.

Mr. Darwin moved a reduction of the estimate by £10,000. It was admitted, he said, that most of the money was spent through the Army and the Civic Guard, and already those two forces meant an expenditure, roughly, of 30s. per head of the population. If they took the work of the Secret Service in connection with the Queenstown murders as an instance it would be seen that it served no useful purpose. He went on to say that it had been suggested that the service was used for political purposes.

President Cosgrave—This money has not been spent to spy on our political opponents, as there never has been any money spent in getting political information. The money has been spent alone on saving the stability of the State.

Mr. Davin's amendment was lost, and the vote was passed.

RELIEF SCHEMES.

Mr. Blythe moved for £115,000, less a vote on account of £50,000, for the completion of works that were either undertaken or authorised last year, and not carried out. The total estimate for last year was £500,000.

Mr. Johnson said that he was sorry to say that he thought there was no justification for saying that the position to-day was better than it was when £500,000 was voted last year. In many respects it was worse, if the number of unemployed men who were not insured was considered. He asked the Minister to take back the vote, and to consider the case of the unemployed workmen, many of whom had families dependent upon them.

Mr. Morrissey and Mr. A. Byrne supported Mr. Johnson's suggestion.

ALLEGED POLITICAL TEST.

Mr. Baxter also supported the case made by the previous speakers. He said that the money voted last year for relief schemes had not been impartially administered. If the House passed the vote that evening, they might as well pass the money into the coffer of the Cumann na nGaedheal, if it was to be used as it was last year. He was not clear as to how much money was voted for the relief of distress in Cavan, but he said that the people that needed it did not benefit. The political test, so far as his experience went, was applied, and the supporters of the Government party were those who benefited.

Mr. Johnson said that Deputy Baxter should be given an opportunity of bringing forth definite evidence, even on oath, in support of his contention. He thought that it was a case where a report should be made to the House as to how the money was administered, and whether it was, as Deputy Baxter alleged, used for the purpose of political bribery.

MINISTER'S REPLY.

Mr. Blythe, replying, said that it might be that they would have to provide further money for the relief of distress. He did not deny that, but he was reluctant to make provision in the vote for more than the amount that was represented by the fairly definite schemes put forward.

More money would be provided by the Government in giving employment this year than last year. There would be between £500,000 and £600,000 spent in connection with the Shannon scheme this year. It did not appear in the heading for relief schemes, but none the less it would give substantial employment. Then £419,000 would be spent on Civic Guard barracks, the General Post Office, the Four Courts and other works. Money would also be spent in connection with the sugar beet factory. It was also anticipated that money would be spent on road grants, perhaps £750,000, and £330,000 would be spent in connection with housing, and a large sum would be available under the Land Improvement Act for drainage, etc.

He did not take Mr. Baxter as seriously as he would take other deputies. Some of the election fever was in his blood, and he was, therefore, not able to give an absolutely fair picture of the situation. In Cavan everybody was trying to claim credit for everything that was done. It was a case of the pot calling the kettle black. He had no hesitation at all in agreeing with Mr. Baxter that there could be nothing worse for the country or for any party than that work should be carried out on political lines. To do so would be to create a mob of political mendicants, and corruption in public life would be the result.

NO POLITICAL PRESSURE.

He would not stand over giving money to particular districts because of any political object that might be gained. He had made no promise and had taken no action because of any political pressure that was brought to bear upon him, and there were all sorts of attempts in that direction.

Continuing, Mr. Blythe said that he would not stand for any differentiation politically. The money, he believed, had been well spent throughout the country, though some of it might have been bad from an engineering point of view owing to the haste with which the work was undertaken.

With regard to the allocation of the money, he said that it was disgraceful if anything was done in the way Deputy Baxter had suggested.

COMMITTEE SUGGESTED.

Mr. Baxter said that he wanted to get the matter cleared up and the Minister was not making a case in reply. There was only one way of dealing with it and that was to set up a committee of the House, which alone could fairly decide it.

Mr. Blythe added that Mr. Baxter should have raised the question by putting up a concrete case with a question which would have led to investigation by the Minister concerned.

Progress was reported and the Dail adjourned.

RAILWAY WORKERS AND HEALTH INSURANCE.

UNIFICATION TO BE RESISTED.

Mr. T. Ryan, Rosslare, presided at the annual general meeting (All-Ireland) of the Great Southern Railway employés Health Insurance and Benefit Societies, held in Tuam on Sunday, when delegates were present from Cork, Limerick, Waterford, Kingsbridge, Inchicore, Kildare, Sligo, Tralee, North Wall (Dublin) and Tuam.

The annual report, dealing with the proposal for the unification of approved societies in the Free State, stated that it would mean confiscation of the societies' moneys. Payments of benefits would be on lines similar to the old Poor Law system, red tape would be rampant and additional benefits would cease.

The Chairman said that the railway men would fight unification to the bitter end by every means in their power.

Mr. Keyes said that no resolution that they could pass would be strong enough to express the abhorrence of the workers throughout the country at this proposed action of the Government. They were determined to fight it.

A resolution was unanimously passed condemning any proposal for the unification or nationalisation of societies, and stating that the Government would be better employed in reducing the costs of their own lavishly administered departments.

It was decided to grant a sum of £100 for a bed in the Mater Hospital, Dublin, for the benefit of members and their families.

On order was made that the sum of £2,500 available for investment be invested in Railway Stock.

The next annual meeting will be held at Cork.

UNITED CHURCH OF CANADA.

BABY KILLED IN MOTORING ACCIDENT.

While Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Payne, of Well Hall, Eltham, Kent, with their baby, Richard, were motor cycling at Sidcup on Whit Monday evening, they collided with a motor car, driven by a Sidcup resident. The baby, who was in his mother's arms inside the car, was killed immediately. Mrs. Payne had both legs broken, and Mr. Payne escaped with cuts to the face.

EX-R.I.C. OFFICERS' REUNION.

TRIBUTES TO THE FORCE.

A reunion of ex-Royal Irish Constabulary officers took place at Frascati's Restaurant, London, on Tuesday, the 26th of May, when the third annual dinner was held. About forty ex-officers were present. Sir C. A. Walsh, K.B.E., was in the chair, and the Right Hon. Sir H. A. Wynne, LL.D. (ex-Chief Crown Solicitor for Ireland), was the guest of honour.

When the loyal toast had been honoured, the Chairman proposed the health of the guests. He referred to the wonderful reputation which the Royal Irish Constabulary enjoyed for nearly one hundred years, and said that it was a model police force in every sense of the term, and, in addition, it performed duties of a military nature. It could be truthfully said that it was the "Garrison of Ireland." The Force had had its quiet times and also its periods when it was subject to attacks on patrol from behind hedges, and also when the men were in the barracks. The bomb and the revolver had told their tale on the Royal Irish Constabulary. The reputation which the Force gained in the Fenian Rising in 1867 prompted Queen Victoria to confer on it the title "Royal." (Cheers.) It was a sad day when disbandment came, but they could all look back with the proud boast that the Royal Irish Constabulary was never found wanting.

He was particularly pleased to welcome Sir Henry A. Wynne. Sir Henry had been connected with the Force for a great many years, and always proved himself a close friend.

THE SISTER FORCE.

Colonel Sir W. Edgeworth-Johnstone, whom he was also pleased to greet, was Chief Commissioner of the Dublin Metropolitan Police for a great many years—a Force which always worked harmoniously with the sister Force. He was particularly indebted to Sir Walter during the period of "internment" for helping to relieve the monotony of life in the Castle by organising games which kept the officials fit and gave them that necessary exercise which enabled them to cope with their duties, as, of course, it was not possible for any of those in authority to venture outside the walls of the Castle for the purposes of recreation. He asked those present to drink to the health of the guests, of whom he was glad to see so many present. Before doing so, he would like a few words from General Sir Joseph Byrne, whom they were delighted to have with them.

Brigadier-General Sir J. A. Byrne, K.B.E., C.B. (late Inspector-General, Royal Irish Constabulary, and now Governor of the Seychelles Islands), was greeted with applause and the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." He referred to his proud connection with the Constabulary during a period of four and a half years. During his period of office as Inspector-General he had the greatest admiration for the officers and men of the force. He thought that something more ought to be done to perpetuate the memory of that grand old force than the holding of the annual dinner; there ought to be some permanent memorial, particularly to honour the 482 members who laid down their lives during the troublous years immediately preceding the disbandment of the force. No other force in the world could have behaved so magnificently as the Royal Irish Constabulary. There never had been a force which could in any way compare with it. (Cheers.)

Sir Henry Wynne gave some humorous reminiscences of his association with the force. He had always found the Constabulary scrupulously impartial; they presented their cases very fairly to the court, and if there was anything to be said on behalf of the prisoner, they did so.

CORDIAL RELATIONS.

Colonel Sir Walter Edgeworth-Johnstone, K.B.E., C.B., also replied. He referred to the cordial relations which existed between the two forces. His experience of the Constabulary went back a good many years, when he was attached to the gymnastic staff at the Curragh. He trained the first Royal Irish Constabulary instructors of gymnastics at the Curragh—Sergeants McGurgan and Gillespie. Later, when he left the Army and was appointed resident magistrate, he had many opportunities of judging the worth of the Royal Irish Constabulary as a body, and he could endorse all that Sir Henry Wynne had said regarding their fairness and impartiality.

Other speakers included Mr. R. Dunlop, Assistant Commissioner Royal Ulster Constabulary (formerly of the Royal Irish Constabulary), and Captain W. A. Woods, Chief Constable of Hull. The last-named proposed the toast of Mr. J. V. Stephenson, a former Constabulary officer, who recently retired from the position of Chief Constable of Glasgow.

Mr. Stevenson, in replying, said that his years of service in the Royal Irish Constabulary were the proudest of his life. He always retained a great affection for the force, and watched its career from time to time. He marvelled at the manner in which the Force remained loyal, true to its proud traditions, during the last few years of its existence.

Among others present were:—General Gray, Colonel Price, D.S.O.; Colonel Turnbull, Commander Davies, Major Blayney, Mr. Moorhouse-Davies, Mr. Pearson, Mr. Greer, Captain McDonnell, Messrs. King, Dobbin, Dolan, Dudgeon, Galway-Foley, Gregory, Hetreed, V.J.; Hetreed, W. P. C.; McConnell, McGarry, O.B.E., and son; McMahon, Morley, Oates, Poer-O'Shee, Ross, Smyth, Lester, Tyndall and son, Walwood, West, Whyte, McKee, and the secretary.

BELGIAN SOLDIER STABBED IN COLOGNE.

COLOGNE, Tuesday.

The British authorities are seeking to prove the identity of a German who has been arrested on a charge of stabbing a Belgian soldier. Some French and Belgian soldiers employed on the Cologne detachment spent a convivial evening on Sunday in company with some Germans, when an argument developed. The soldiers set out to return to their quarters, and the Germans followed them. One of the Germans snatched a short sword from a German policeman who was attracted by the noise of the altercation, and attacked a Belgian soldier, inflicting seven wounds.

The German policeman in a quandary arrested both the Belgian and the German and handed them over to the British authorities, who are taking the necessary action. The victim's wounds are only slight.

BOATMAN OBTAINS DAMAGES.

The Cork Circuit Court yesterday awarded £20 damages and £50 expenses to Cornelius O'Sullivan, a boatman, who was injured through the placing of a rope across the River Lee by servants of the Cork Harbour Commissioners.

SEQUEL TO SIEGE ON BEDFORD FARM.

Arising out of a night siege of Carlton Hall Farm, on March 5, Alfred Fagence was sentenced, at Bedford Assizes, yesterday, to four years' penal servitude, for wounding Frederick Betts, by hitting him behind the head with a huge stone; for shooting at Mr. and Mrs. Betts with a revolver, and firing a barn. POPE RECEIVES AUSTRALIANS.

ARCHBISHOP MANNIX TO VISIT IRELAND.

ROME, Tuesday.

The Pope to-day solemnly received the Australian pilgrimage led by Archbishop Mannix, which, together with students at the Irish College and other Australians living in Rome or passing through, numbered about 400 people. Mgr. Mannix, accompanied by Father Vaughan, his secretary, entered the Vatican from the gate of the Mint, where the Swiss Guard rendered military honours, and descended in the courtyard of St. Damaso, where the Papal gendarmes stood at attention. He then mounted the Royal Staircase, together with a number of prelates, followed by the entire pilgrimage. The Swiss Guard, equipped with their helmets and halberds, were lined up in the immense Clementine Hall, where the pilgrims assembled.

The pilgrims were then introduced into the Papal apartments, and shortly afterwards the Pontiff, preceded by the Guard of Nobles, and accompanied by representatives of the ecclesiastical and lay Courts, appeared dressed entirely in white, the only note of colour being a gold chain from which hung his pectoral cross. The Pontiff gave his hand to each person introduced by Archbishop Mannix to kiss, and addressed a few words to him. He blessed all religious objects carried by the pilgrims, and spoke most cordially to each bishop and monsignor.

Archbishop Mannix then delivered a short address in Latin, expressing the loyalty of the episcopacy, clergy and people of Australia. He said: "From a far distant point the first pilgrimage that has ever come from Australia and New Zealand casts itself at the feet of the Supreme Pontiff humbly and lovingly. Compared with those who have come to Rome this Holy Year from other lands we are perhaps a tiny flock, yet considering the long, inconvenient journey, the time, and the expense, Australia and New Zealand may claim to have given by their pilgrimage a notable and splendid example of love and fidelity towards the Holy See and the sovereign Pontiff. We came to Europe to honour Mary Immaculate at Lourdes, and it is our intention to visit Ireland, the Island of Saints and Scholars, for our faith is that of St. Patrick and St. Bridgid, but, above all, we came to cast ourselves at the feet of Christ's Vicar on earth."

The Pope answered Monsignor Mannix's address, speaking in Italian, which was translated into English by Monsignor Dwyer, Bishop of Wagga Wagga, who was congratulated by His Holiness for his perfect Italian. The Pope, who spoke with great earnestness and affection, said that he was filled with admiration for the people of Australia and New Zealand, who had come so far in such great numbers and at such great personal discomfiture and expense, thereby showing the strength of their faith and their attachment to the Holy See. He gave them his heartfelt welcome, adding: "I love the Australians and New Zealanders very much. I am pleased to know they first went to Lourdes to pay a tribute of love to the Mother of God, afterwards visiting the Vicar of her Divine Son."

U.S. MARKETS.

STOCKS CLOSED STRONG.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

NEW YORK, Tuesday.

Stocks opened irregular. Disappointing trade and dividend news, involving cuts in motor prices, and the failure to increase the Mack Truck dividend, and a prediction of a reduction in the U.S. Steel Corporation's unfilled orders, prompted realising and short selling, and International Mercantile Marine Prefd. was liquidated owing to the poor annual statement. The market rallied vigorously, however, on the announcement of a Morgan credit of 50,000,000 to the Italian banks and the repetition of rumours of railroad and public utility mergers, and Maxwell Motors jumped 10 points, and Du Pont de N. Powder Common, National Lead and General Electric 5 to 7 points. The closing was strong. Government Bonds steady; Railroad Bonds firm. The day's sales amounted to 1,370,000 shares. Money on call closed easy at 4 p.c. bid and 4½ p.c. asked. All business was transacted at 4 p.c. Sterling exchange fluctuating. Silver ½c. higher at 68⅝.

NEW YORK COTTON.

COTTON opened steady, but 2 to 9 points lower. The market improved afterwards on New Orleans houses and the trade buying, but prices fell back under the influence of the Government crop condition report, and the downward movement was assisted by bulls unloading, bear pressure, selling of foreign interests and the disappointing condition of the cotton goods trade. There was some reactionary buying in the late dealings, but the market closed steady, although 33 to 40 points down. Spot steady at 30 points fall. New Orleans spot 40 points lower

The ten years' average is 71.9 per cent.

Mr. Statistician Snow estimates the condition of winter wheat at 71.0 per cent., and the yield 434,000,000 bushels, and the spring wheat condition 87.2 per cent., and the crop 239,000,000 bushels. EDUCATION IN THE NORTH.

RELIGIOUS TEACHING IN THE SCHOOLS.

NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE GOVERNMENT.

FROM OUR BELFAST CORRESPONDENT.

BELFAST, Tuesday.

Since the passing of the Amending Act of the Northern Education Act before the last general election in the North, negotiations have been proceeding between a joint committee of the Protestant Churches and the Orangemen of Belfast and the Northern Government through the Ministry of Education. The object of these negotiations has been to secure an agreed form of transfer which would secure the continuance of religious instruction in schools transferred to the education authorities, and the appointment of Protestant teachers to teach Protestant children. Up to the present agreement has not been reached.

The negotiations have arrived at a critical stage, but it is expected that within the next few weeks an arrangement will be made which will be satisfactory to all parties. The Roman Catholic Church is not directly involved in the negotiations, although they are as much interested in the preservation of religious instruction in the schools as the Protestant Churches. The Grand Orange Lodge, in a resolution passed some months ago, declared that they did not wish any advantages for the Protestant Churches in regard to education which they were not prepared should be given to other Churches.

EXPENDITURE HUNG UP.

While the negotiations are proceeding the administration of the Education Act in the North is being held up and its operation retarded. For instance, the Belfast Corporation at its monthly meeting to-day postponed for another month sanction to an expenditure of £76,000 for building several new schools and repairs to existing schools which have been transferred. The majority of the Corporation is apparently determined not to sanction expenditure upon a large scale on education in the present depressed condition of industry, at any rate until the whole policy in regard to the transfer of existing schools is definitely settled.

Some months ago the chairman of the Belfast Education authority declared that it would be necessary almost to re-school Belfast at a cost of £750,000. The business community, which protested vigorously against an increase of 2s. in the £ on the rates for the present year, is not prepared to support a huge expenditure of this character under existing trade conditions, and in this view they have the support of the majority of the Corporation. That some new schools will be necessary is generally conceded, but those who are responsible for the trade of the city feel that with slight alterations and modifications many of the existing schools could do duty for several years, until industrial conditions became more normal.

CORPORATION DISCUSSION.

At the meeting of the Belfast Corporation to-day, Alderman Duff (chairman of the Education Committee) said that the transfer of schools was receiving the most serious consideration from every standpoint, but they must not forget one fact—that the cost of dealing with transferred schools was becoming a very serious financial problem. It was becoming increasingly clear that the building of new schools was the only possible solution from a financial standpoint. They were throwing away thousands in trying to repair old shanties.

Councillor Stewart, for the second time, moved the adjournment of the proposed expenditure of £75,000 for the purpose of the erection and equipment of Public Elementary schools in Ormeau Park and at Everton, Crumlin road, respectively, and the extension of Rosetta and Skegoniel Public Elementary Schools.

The reason was to ascertain whether they could not have an authority from the Ulster Government for the teaching of the Bible in the schools.

The Town Clerk pointed out that the motion was not in order, and no member could twice move an adjournment of the same matter.

Councillor McLaurin then moved the adjournment, and Councillor Wilson seconded.

Alderman Duff said that he looked upon the motion as a direct challenge to the action of the Education Committee. Previously there had been a motion for an adjournment of the matter.

Councillor Smylie—The motion refers only to the portion of the minutes sanctioning the expenditure of £76,500.

Alderman Duff—I understand that the motion was to refer the question back to the Committee.

There were counter cries of "Yes" and "No," and Councillor M'Laurin said he wished to amend his motion, so that it should read that the matter be adjourned.

The Lord Mayor—Those who believe the motion should pass say "Aye."

There was an immediate response, with only a few dissentients, and the matter was allowed to stand for a month.

During the discussion Councillor M'Laurin asked what position would they be in if the managers closed the schools. He admitted that some of the schools were unsuitable, but he pointed out that there were men in Belfast who had done more for the children of Belfast than Alderman Duff.

Councillor Wilson said that he thought that Alderman Duff, as a Scotsman, should attach more weight to the opinion of Ulstermen and women in relation to the schools.

Councillor Hall Thompson repudiated the charge that there had been a desire on the part of the Committee for the transfer of schools, and cited the fact that thirty-six schools were offered to them. This showed a desire on the part of the managers to avail themselves of the new order of things. Owing to the action of the Corporation earlier in that day the postponement of the expenditure of a sum of money would prevent the carrying out of alterations to schools this year, and 8,000 children of school age would be deprived of the means of education.

Councillor Clark Scott expressed appreciation of the work that was being carried on by the Education Committee.

ALDERMAN DUFF'S REPLY.

Alderman Duff, in reply, said that every school offered for transfer was examined by the Corporation architect before acceptance. He read the report of a school which, he said, was connected with one of the best-known churches in the city. The conditions of that building made it impossible for them to accept it. The proper policy was to build new up-to-date schools on the forty years' loans plan, and release the Churches for their own real work. He objected to either himself or his Committee being labelled as antagonistic to religion or the old cry of the Bible in the schools. They were in favour of the Bible in the schools, but were not going to be tyrannised by any section of the public.

MILITARY SERGEANT INJURED.

Sergeant Hynes, Griffith Barracks, Dublin, was taken to the Meath Hospital yesterday afternoon, suffering from a deep cut in his throat. The wound extended almost from ear to ear. None of the main vessels was cut, however, and Hynes is expected to recover. Hynes left the barracks last Saturday morning, and had not reported himself for duty since. He was found at his home, Abercorn terrace, Dublin, yesterday afternoon, by an escort which had been sent to bring him back. He went upstairs to change into uniform, and shortly afterwards came out of his bedroom with his throat bleeding. Sergeant Hynes is middle-aged, married, and was popular among all ranks in the barracks.

ASTRONOMICAL NOTES FOR JUNE.

SATURN'S RING SYSTEM.

(FROM OUR ASTRONOMICAL CORRESPONDENT.)

THE PLANETS:—

At midsummer the star-gazing opportunities of the average person are severely restricted in these latitudes. Twilight all night and Summer-time clocks pretending it is midnight at 11 p.m. (and at 10.30 p.m. in Ireland) give little chance to see stars or planets without sitting up to most inconvenient hours.

Mercury is too near the Sun to be observed, being in superior conjunction on the 20th.

Venus also is hardly likely to be seen by the unaided eye. She sets a little more than an hour after the Sun, and is not far distant from Mercury during the last days of the month.

Jupiter rises near 10.30 p.m. at the beginning and just before 9 p.m. at the end of the month. He is low down in the South, and will never be well placed for observation this year.

Saturn souths a little before 10 p.m. at the beginning of the month. He is the best placed of the planets at present, and his ring system can be well seen with a moderate telescope. The shadow of the planet on the face of the ring can be seen, as well as the division, known as Cassini's, between the outer and inner ring, and, with a telescope of sufficient power, also the crape ring. From one to five satellites may be seen, according to the power of the telescope employed.

The difficulty of seeing the Cassini division is due to the faintness of the outer ring. In a small telescope the observer often fails to see the outer ring altogether, or, if seen, fails to recognise it. Consequently the place of Cassini's division is mistaken for the outer edge of the whole system. This, I think, is the real reason of so many with small instruments failing to see the division, which in itself is conspicuous enough.

THE SUN:—

The Sun enters Cancer on the 21st at 2.50 p.m. This is, therefore, technically the longest day, though, for reasons explained in these notes for December, the earliest sunrise and the latest sunset do not occur on the same dates.

THE MOON:—

Full Moon on the 6th at 9.48 p.m.
Last Quarter on the 13th at 12.44 p.m.
New Moon on the 21st at 6.17 a.m.
First Quarter on the 29th at 9.43 a.m.

THE STARS:—

At midnight on June 1st; 11 p.m. on the 15th; 10 p.m. on the 30th. Scorpio, Ophiuchus, and Hercules are on the Meridian. The great red star, Antares, the "Red Star of Scorpio," glows low on the horizon a little West of South. With Ophiuchus (the Serpent Holder) is mixed Serpens (the Serpent). The human figure is supposed to be grasping the Serpent in both hands, while its scaly length writhes across his body. The stars of Serpens thus appear on both sides of Ophiuchus, the sole instance in the heavens of such an arrangement.

West of the Meridian are Boötes, Libra and Virgo. Leo is beginning to set. In the East the most conspicuous figures are Lyra, Cygnus and Aquila, with the three bright stars, Vega, Deneb and Altair. Pegasus and Aquarius are rising. In the North are the upper stars of Auriga, Perseus and Andromeda, including the brilliant Capella. The always conspicuous Bear and Cassiopeia flank the Pole on the right and left, respectively.

The Milky Way, though hardly visible in the midsummer twilight, starts from the horizon immediately below the Pole, between the stars of Auriga and Perseus, traverses Cassiopeia, Cygnus and Aquila, to pass out of sight of our latitudes in a specially brilliant knot, or, rather, cluster of knots, in Sagittarius. Numerous clusters are sprinkled over its course, notably in Cygnus and Aquila. Within the rightful borders of the latter lies the modern constellation, not now usually recognised, of Sobieski's Shield. It is marked by an oval ring of small stars, outlining one of the gaps in the Galaxy, and close by a conspicuous knot in the same. Just outside the ring, and faintly visible to the naked eye, is "Messier 11," sometimes called the "Wild Duck" Cluster. It is a triangular mass of stars, like a flight of wild ducks or geese, with a brighter star at the point. It is a fine object for the telescope. Just above Altair is the tiny constellation of Sagitta, the Arrow, easily identified as such. This is a guide to the "Dumb-Bell" nebula, another good object for a small telescope; but the help of a star atlas is very desirable for locating it.

The "Ring" or "Bird's Nest" nebula will be more easily found, being about midway between the two third magnitude stars, Beta and Gamma Lyræ.

MASONIC FEMALE ORPHAN SCHOOL.

The half-yearly meeting of the Board of Governors of the Masonic Female Orphan School was held yesterday at the schoolhouse, Ballsbridge, when the report of the scrutineers of the ballot for the admission of twelve pupils was read. It was unanimously resolved that the twelve candidates who obtained the highest number of votes be elected. Accordingly, Sylvia D. Irons (5,959), Phyllis M. F. Daly (5,937), Anna F. Johnston, having obtained the next highest number of votes, was also elected a pupil.

WAYGOOD WINS IN A CANTER.

MANCHESTER PROSPECTS.

FROM OUR TRAVELLING CORRESPONDENT.

LONDON, Tuesday Night.

After having disappointed Mr. Walter Raphael on many occasions since he won the Irish Derby two seasons ago, Waygood at last turned up this afternoon at Hurst Park, winning the Piccadilly Handicap practically in a canter by three lengths and the same from Jamnagar and Polish Patriot. Considering his class and some of his past performances, it was a little surprising to find him start at such a price as 100 to 7 against in this sort of company, but I suppose many people had grown tired of him and suspected him of not being too generous, in spite of the fact that he had run a really good race behind Caravel in the Doveridge Handicap at Derby early in the season.

A very strong favourite was found for this race in Watford, for whom Mr. Landale Wilson, a newcomer to racing, had given a big sum at Newmarket a month ago, and who had run well for a mile and a quarter in the race won by Hurstwood on Saturday last. I am afraid, however, that Watford has two ways of running, and he never threatened danger at all here. Jamnagar was in front in the straight, but at the distance Waygood raced past him and beat him very easily. Mr. Raphael decided to try the effect of a change of air on Waygood last winter and sent him away from Newmarket to be trained by James Crawford at Bishop's Canning, who prepared him for to-day's race.

In the same way as they would not have Waygood, the general body of backers would not have Precious in the Vyner Handicap, a seven furlong event, which was probably considered too far for him. Jarvie, although on the course, was not started, and Ceramic was made favourite from Irish Eagle. Mr. Joel's filly, however, could not even get a place behind Precious, who won, pulling up, from Dusky Brave.

One sees signs of the enhancing value of bloodstock everywhere, and in nothing more so than in the very high prices being paid for the winners of two year old selling plates. Sums reaching four figures are becoming quite ordinary, and Mr. Gerald Deane paid exactly a thousand guineas this afternoon for the Galloper Light filly Galatea, after she had easily upset the odds of 9 to 4 laid on Sir William Cooke's filly by Golden Orb out of Parsimony in the Richmond T.Y.O. Selling Plate. Sir Charles Nugent's Golden Sun colt, Idolatry, was heavily supported when he was beaten at Salisbury. Here, although he was troublesome at the post, he was able to jump off in front, make all the running and win by a length from the well-backed Mellowness. Valdore, who had run second to Motley yesterday, was pulled out again for the Thames Three-Year-Old Stakes and started favourite, but he had to be pressed to beat the Tetrarch colt, Princeps, by half a length.

Friday's Big Race.

Much interest is being taken in Friday's race for the Manchester Cup, the chief event of the important Castle Irwell Meeting, which begins to-morrow. There is every sign that Mr. Reid Walker's Reggio will start favourite, for the colt appears to have been highly tried, and he is likely to run for the Manton stable in preference to Baton Rouge, who, on his running with Mr. Bliss at York, seemed to have a very good chance, indeed. Reggio has been very well tried, and as his last year's form was good, and he is well handicapped, he must have a decided chance. There are, however, a good many other candidates well fancied for this race, notably Winalot, Arcade and Dumas, and Salmon Trout showed in the Coronation Cup that he is beginning to find his form.

It does not seem as if fields will be large for the opening to-morrow, for only ten of the horses trained at Newmarket have been sent. Carbonaro has been sent for the King Coal Stakes, but he is hardly speedy enough for this course. Charley's Mount will probably be better later on, and the distance may be too far for Paddy. I think the best chance is that of SCULLION, who, I fully expect, will carry on a family tradition established by Happy Man and win for Mr. George Hardy. The stable in which he is trained, Hogg's, is also likely to win the Stamford Three-Year-Old Handicap with CRAGFORD.

Mystical has been sent from the Manton stable for the Royal Standard Stakes, in which Cross Bow, Saucy Sue, and Miss Gadabout are also engaged. This does not, however, imply that he is better than the trio who are in reserve for Ascot. Although Mystical is by Gainsborough, out of Maid of the Mist, his form this year has not suggested that he will beat the others engaged here. The best I take to be the Aga Khan's colt, ZAMBO, who beat St. Becan in the Payne Stakes. KEDLESTON, who was much fancied when beaten at Newmarket, should win the Whitsuntide Foal Stakes.

At Yarmouth I like the chance of GAVOTTE in the Norfolk and Suffolk Handicap. She will start at a good price, and is worth a little support each way. The Great Yarmouth Maiden T.Y.O. Plate should fall to BULL BEE.

GALTEE MORE.

SPORTING PARAGRAPHS.

Entries close to-day for the Curragh, Baldoyle, Bellewstown, Down Royal, Mallow and Limerick Junction meetings.

A complaint by Mr. Slocock against J. Dines for interference with Brighter London in the Baldoyle Derby was dismissed.

Bold Buck broke down while taking part in the Dunsdale Selling Handicap at Redcar yesterday afternoon.

The correct "Sporting Life" price of Blanc Mange in the Hurst Park Whitsuntide Cup yesterday was 9 to 2, not 5 to 1.

It is definitely arranged that Zionist and Warminster will both run in the Irish Derby at the Curragh on June 24.

The present intention of the respective owners of Zionist and Warminster is to send them to the Curragh for the Irish Derby on the 24th inst.

There will be two Irish-trained runners at Manchester, namely—Zanoni, whose engagement is in the Beaufort Handicap on Thursday, and Mallow Bridge, who will take part in the Brackley Welter Handicap on Friday.

Mr. Hannan has arrived at Sydney from New Zealand. Articles have been signed for a title match with Major Goodsell, holder of the world's sculling championship, which will probably be decided on the Parramatta River on June 27.

This is the last day for naming mares for the Irish Breeders' Produce Stakes of 1,000 sovs. It is for the produce of mares covered this year by sires standing in Ireland, and to run at Pœnix Park when two years old in 1928.

After the race for the Baldoyle Derby yesterday the Stewards called J. Dines, W. Treacy, James Doyle and Joseph Canty before them to explain their riding in the race, and as a result of the investigation Treacy, who had the mount on Mullabawn, was cautioned as to his future riding.

Non-runners at Manchester to-day include the following:—Stamford Handicap—Silhouette, Chrysanthemum and Cragnure. Wednesday Selling—Blue Sol and Theona. Royal Standard Stakes—Galloper Queen. Club Plate—Traitress colt. King Coal Stakes—Vaudricourt.

At Yarmouth meeting to-day jockeys' engagements will include the following:—Borough Selling—Aspis f. (H. Jelliss). Norfolk and Suffolk Handicap—Houdale (R. Perryman). Great Yarmouth Plate—Mulberry (J. Childs). Nelson Plate—Coughdrop (H. Leach). H. Jelliss rides Balderston in the race selected.

Jockeys' engagements at Manchester to-day include the following:—Stamford Handicap—Cragford (Richards). Wednesday Selling—Mon (Richards). Royal Standard Stakes—Zambo (Dempsey). Club Selling—Mezzotint (Donoghue). King Coal Stakes—Charley's Mount ([illegible]); Scullion (Richards). Whitsuntide Foal Stakes—Kedleston (Weston); Culblean (McLachlan, jun.); Rosslare or Warsprite (Donoghue).

BALDOYLE DERBY.

ST. DONAGH AGAIN.

BRIGHTER LONDON UNLUCKY.

AN EXCITING RACE.

ACCIDENT NARROWLY AVERTED.

Although naturally not so large as on the Bank holiday, the attendance at Baldoyle yesterday was of excellent dimensions, and, needless to say, the pleasant change in the weather was greatly appreciated. It was the first day for a considerable period that no rain fell, and there was a feeling of warmth in the air which was as welcome as it was unusual. The sport ruled thoroughly interesting, and pity it was that the chief event—the Baldoyle Derby—in which St. Donagh ultimately triumphed, should have been to some extent marred by the scrimmaging that occurred at a very crucial part of the contest.

The field for the big race was exactly in accordance with overnight anticipations, and a well-trained lot they were, with Brighter London and Lisworney, perhaps, carrying off the palm in the matter of good looks. The connections of the first-named were pretty confident that he would do much better here than in the Irish 2,000 Guineas, which was run in such heavy going, and he was staunchly befriended, without, however, seriously challenging St. Donagh's position at the head of the wagering.

It will remain a moot question whether Brighter London would have won yesterday had he escaped interference about two furlongs out, where a collision occurred through Mullabawn swerving on to St. Donagh and Lisworney, and the latter in turn cannoned into Mr. Slocock's horse, who had a very narrow escape from being sent over the rails. For a moment or two it seemed as if all four horses would come down, and a serious accident was only narrowly averted. Brighter London's chance was thus destroyed, and then ensued an exciting set-to between St. Donagh, whom Dines smartly brought to the outside, and Mullabawn, the former getting the better of it by a neck, whilst three lengths away Larkspur was third, in front of Brighter London. Subsequently the Stewards held an inquiry, at which they interviewed several of the jockeys who rode in the race, and they were evidently satisfied with the explanation of all of them, except that of Treacy, the rider of Mullabawn, whom they reprimanded.

St. Donagh has thus demonstrated pretty conclusively that there was no element of fluke about his victory in the Irish 2,000 Guineas, and it will be interesting to see how he acquits himself in the Irish Derby next month, for which race, by the way, several English-trained horses are coming across.

Hassock was not pulled out for the Portmarnock Plate, and Sydenham, who had been intended to represent Mr. Murland's stable instead, was declared for a couple of minutes too late. Louvois Prize left off in most demand, but the best he could do was to finish a moderate third to Carrig Long and Bolshevist, the former of whom now quickly supplemented the success he gained at Rathkeale last Friday. For the Kinsealy Plate, Radiana was backed practically to the exclusion of all else, but she cut up in disappointing fashion, and Silver Charm, served by stronger jockeyship, prevailed over Jenny's Boy and Lady Silvern.

The Seaside Plate, run over one mile and seven furlongs on the flat, was won in runaway fashion by one of the least fancied of the eleven starters in Brave May, who was sent to the head of affairs at flagfall and remained there to the end, scoring in effortless fashion from the much-fancied Reliable. Another Star, who also carried a lot of money, was done with a long way from the end, and though The Guidon made up a great amount of ground in the last half-mile, he never looked like catching the leader.

The evergreen Clonsheever put up a capital performance in the Malahide Steeplechase, in which he carried 13st. 2lb. to victory, and though he had to be hard driven to shake off Black Toi and Glennan, he accomplished the task in a highly creditable manner. He was giving the second 44lb. and the third 35lb., and obviously Mr. Tyrrell's gelding is as good as ever he was. Another horse to distinguish himself was Vesington King, who conceded weight and a beating to a big field of sprinters in the Howth Plate, which produced one of the best races of the day. Deflation and Swift Bird in turn flattered, but in the closing stages the issue was fought out by Vesington King and Golden Bird, who was a hot favourite, and it was only by a head that Mr. Hartigan's representative prevailed, and now atoned for the failure at Proudstown Park last month.

Brave May cut out the work from Another Star, Boinne-na-Brugh, Northleigh, Bealach Conglas, Reliable and The Guidon. So they ran until three furlongs from home, when Reliable took second place but failed to make any impression on Brave May, who won in a canter by four lengths; a length and a half divided second and third. At a good pace Brighter London made the running just clear of Oppressormore and Maynooth, and then came St. Donagh, Mullabawn and Eagle Royal, with Lisworney and Larkspur next, and Lomondais last. They ran in this order for a mile and a quarter, when Lisworney took second place behind Brighter London, with St. Donagh and Mullabawn in close attendance, and Larkspur and Lomondais next. When fairly in the line for home Lisworney, Mullabawn and St. Donagh took close order with Brighter London, and a lot of scrimmaging occurred, the chief sufferer being Brighter London. Mullabawn then showed in front, pursued by St. Donagh and Larkspur, and a fine race ensued, St. Donagh, asserting himself close home to win by a neck; three lengths divided second and third. Brighter London was fourth, Lisworney fifth, Rhea sixth, Eagle Royal seventh, and Lomondais next. Time—2 mins. 45 3-5 secs.
After the race the Stewards called J. Dines, W. Treacy, James Doyle and Joseph Canty before them to explain their riding in the race, and as a result of the investigation Treacy was cautioned as to his future riding.

DUNSTALL PARK (WOLVERHAMPTON).

GOOD RACING.

INVERCAULD'S EASY WIN IN CHIEF EVENT.

The propitious weather conditions attracted a very large attendance of holiday makers to Dunstall Park for the concluding day's racing. The track was in magnificent condition, runners were plentiful, and some capital sport was witnessed. The start in the opening event, the Stanton Selling Handicap, was a moderate one, for, while Golden Arch slipped away with the lead and won in a canter by four lengths from the favourite, Golden Shadow stood still when the tapes went up and baulked Eastern Valley.

Though a moderate lot of animals went to the post for the Dunstall T.-Y.-O. Plate, over five furlongs, four were well backed, particularly the winner, Cylgate, Fairly Well, and Miss Mount. The last named was well up with the leaders a furlong from home, but could only finish fourth.

The Bradford Three-Year-Old Handicap was a splendid betting medium, no fewer than eight horses being backed, with Skyblaze heading the quotations. The winner, however, was found in a 10 to 1 chance, Gay Christian, who easily turned the tables on Skyblaze, who was placed fourth.

The best endowed race of the day, the Wolverhampton Handicap of 500 sovs., constituted a rather poor betting medium, owing principally to the defection of Horace (who beat Conquistador at Haydock Park). Tunis was backed down from 3 to 1 to 6 to 4, with Invercauld second in demand at 7 to 2, but the result was a foregone conclusion some distance from home, and Richards passed the post five lengths in front of the favourite.

When Grand Lady won the Bushbury Maiden Plate by a neck from the favourite, Pigeon Post, Lord Glanely's people retrieved their losses over Skyblaze, and the win incidentally enabled Smirke to ride his fourth winning mount of the meeting.

The public backed three horses only in the concluding event, the Dudley Sweepstakes, and these were first, second and third, R. Jones on Carlotta completing a fine double.

MANCHESTER

TO-DAY'S PROGRAMME AND SELECTIONS.

The Manchester Whitsuntide Meeting, extending over four days, opens this afternoon. The prize money which is distributed over the week's programme is pretty considerable, and, with 2,300 sovereigns added to the half-dozen stakes, plus the sweepstakes, the fields should ensure a thoroughly interesting entertainment. The principal attraction to-day is the Royal Standard Stakes, for which I do not expect a very extensive field. Whatever is sent by A. Taylor is likely to find nothing stronger than Skysail, Zambo and By-Law to oppose. It is more than possible that Zambo will prove a stumbling block to the best, as he is an exceedingly racing-like colt, endowed with both speed and stamina. Mystical, who is likely to be the Manton representative, is a Gainsborough filly of small account if her public form can be depended upon, and Zambo should account for such as she. Marksman may run forward, but he failed to hold Warden of the Marches upon level terms last week, and that does not appear nearly good enough. Field Argent, on his good display in the Wilburton Handicap at headquarters, comes into it, without threatening real danger to Zambo. The King Coal Stakes will give us a more interesting contest, and, as the owner of Scullion is a local man and generally popular, I expect to see this horse run more than well. Selections:—

Stamford Handicap—Cragford.
Wednesday Handicap—Mon.
Royal Standard Stakes—Zambo.
Club Plate—Zithern filly.
King Coal Stakes—Scullion.
Foal Stakes—Warspite.

CRICKET.

HARD-EARNED POINTS FOR LANCASHIRE.

SURREY'S FAILURE AT TRENT BRIDGE.

After the fierce excitement of the previous day the play at Old Trafford yesterday was exceedingly tame. The wicket remained a good one, no rain having fallen, and, as was only to be expected, the match ended in a draw, Lancashire taking three points for their hard won lead on the first innings. Notwithstanding the improbability of a definite result, 14,588 spectators paid for admission, making a total attendance for three days of over 59,000, exclusive of Lancashire members, of whom there were nearly 5,000.

Lancashire increased their lead to 33. Hallows carried out his bat after a stay of five hours and twenty minutes, in which time he gave one chance when 41. He hit fourteen 4's. The innings lasted five hours and fifty minutes. Going in at five minutes to twelve o'clock Yorkshire soon struck the keynote of their innings. With no chance of victory they set themselves to avert defeat, and in pursuit of that object adopted cautious methods, with a tenacity that nothing could overcome, the first 100 runs taking more than three hours to register. Sutcliffe, third out at 79, gave no chance, but was nearly two hours and a half putting together 40, and Leyland batted an hour and fifty minutes for 29. Rhodes followed up his success of Saturday with 54 not out, making his aggregate for the match 113 runs. There was a very dull termination to the struggle, the Yorkshiremen still playing stubbornly, although the Lancashire captain rested his regular bowlers. When the game was given up Yorkshire were 153 runs on, with four wickets to fall.

A TAME DRAW.

The match at Edgbaston ended in a rather tame draw. As the afternoon wore on it became apparent that Warwickshire were unlikely to get Derbyshire out. Neither was there much possibility of Derbyshire getting the runs required. For the loss of another wicket Warwickshire added 104 to the overnight total and declared. A feature of the innings was an unbroken partnership between Smith and Stephens, which yielded 59 runs in just under half an hour. The visitors were left to get 329, and though they lost Bowden with only 7 scored, the second wicket partnership between Lee and Townsend put on 96 in an hour and a half. Jackson also offered stubborn resistance, helping to add 94 for the third wicket in eighty minutes. Lee's was a faultless innings, lasting three and a half hours. He hit ten 4's. Derbyshire, at the close, were 95 runs behind, with six wickets in hand.

QUIET FINISH AT LORD'S.

Hearne's benefit match ended very quietly at Lord's, Middlesex winning by eight wickets at twenty minutes to two o'clock. Sussex, having lost four wickets for 83 on Monday, when following on 165 behind, were not likely to cause much trouble considering the moderate quality of their batting. Arthur Gilligan hit hard, but Bowley and he left at 145, and after a little hitting by Tate, the last three wickets fell for 23 runs. The cricket was not treated very seriously when Middlesex went in to get the 45 wanted for victory.

WORCESTER'S SECOND COLLAPSE.

Never recovering from their indifferent batting on Monday, Worcester collapsed again at Leyton yesterday, being dismissed for the second time in the match for 150, and Essex shortly before half-past three o'clock gained a well-deserved victory by 228 runs. Half an hour in the morning sufficed to finish off the Essex innings for a further 41 runs. Douglas, last out, hit seven fours in his carefully played 51. Set 379 to get to win, Worcester commenced their huge task at noon. Capital progress was made, and in just over an hour 70 runs were on the board, with only one man out. At lunch time, however, three had been disposed of for 83, and subsequently Louden bowled so well that the remaining seven wickets fell in seventy minutes for 67. In a quarter of an hour after lunch four wickets fell for nine runs. Louden, taking five for 49, secured four wickets after lunch for 25.

FINE BOWLING BY SKELDING.

Leicestershire never relaxed their grip on the game with Northamptonshire at Northampton, and the match finished a few minutes after lunch, Leicestershire winning by 171. Some such result was foreshadowed when in the first quarter of an hour Northamptonshire lost Woolley and R. L. Wright for seven runs. A stand by Jupp and Walden brought on Bale and Smith for the original bowlers, Skelding and Astill, but when, with 54 added, the partnership was broken by the dismissal of Walden, Skelding and Astill again took charge and carried on to the end. Each met with success in his first over, Jupp, who had done some admirable driving, being stumped off Astill at 101, when he had batted 75 minutes and hit seven fours. The only other man to show real scoring power was Humfrey, who hit with great freedom and made his 61 in less than 35 minutes. He took five sixes off Astill and found the boundary four times. Skelding again bowled with great skill, and his six wickets for 46 gave him the great record for the match of 14 for 129.

SEVEN WICKETS FALL IN 30 MINS.

The visiting county at Taunton secured victory over Somerset by 282 runs, the game being over by three o'clock, following some sensational cricket after lunch. Gloucestershire had fifty minutes' batting in the morning before declaring, adding 68 runs, thus leaving their opponents rather more than four hours in which to get 343 to win. Captain Becher again batted well, starting his score with four boundary strokes. Somerset commenced their big task with Rippon and White staying together for twenty-five minutes for a corresponding number of runs, and at lunch time Somerset had lost three for 43. On resuming, the Gloucestershire bowlers carried all before them, claiming five wickets for seven runs in twenty-five minutes. In another five minutes the remaining two wickets fell. Gloucestershire's fielding approached perfection, and Parker came out with the excellent analysis of five for 26, making 10 for 97 in the match.

SURREY'S LOST OPPORTUNITY.

Surrey lost another great opportunity, their second in a week, of forcing a victory when, against Notts at Trent Bridge, they failed to follow up the strong advantage gained earlier in the day. The match seemed in their hands at a quarter past three o'clock, Notts, with half their wickets down for 115, being only 60 runs on, but their bowlers could not maintain their good work, and Notts, with comparative ease, saved the game, Surrey thus having to be content with the points for the first innings' lead. In the morning Surrey's five outstanding wickets added only 53 runs, Jardine alone facing Barratt's accurate bowling with any confidence. In his last spell Barratt obtained four wickets for 18, and Surrey, in an endeavour to get runs quickly, gained a lead of only 55. As it happened, that advantage proved a strong one, inasmuch as Notts lost three valuable wickets before they hit off the arrears. George Gunn and Whysall batted steadily and confidently in an opening partnership of 40 in as many minutes, but such were the rapid changes in the game that with the total advanced to 47 Gunn and Staples, as well as Whysall, had been sent back. Notts were indeed in a bad position, and in spite of a resolute partnership of 53 in three-quarters of an hour between Carr and Payton, the home county had not retrieved the position when the fifth wicket fell. Carr hit with tremendous power in front of the wicket, gaining five 4's before mis-hitting a ball from Fenley, but Notts owed almost everything to a very fine batting display by Payton. Unperturbed by the state of the game, he played sound and confident cricket for two hours and forty minutes, and, with Walker, engaged in an invaluable stand of 116 in one hundred minutes that made Notts safe from defeat.

A LIGHT BLUE SUCCESS.

Cambridge had an easy win over the Army by eight wickets, having to make only 19 runs. The Army's last three wickets were more than equal to clear off the 45 runs in arrears, but most of these came off Jagger, who was bowling far from well, and who was punished to the extent of 27 runs in two overs. Kirkwood and Hyndson hit freely, the former reaching his 50 with two capital drives to the boundary off successive deliveries. Enthoven, on the other hand, did well, and brought his average for the match up to eleven wickets for 116. Brown, the left arm bowler, appears likely to improve if persevered with. When Cambridge went in Dawson was bowled off his pads and Timms was also dismissed, but the remaining runs were soon hit off without further loss.

SANDYMOUNT V. CO. MEATH.

County Meath played their first match of the season against Sandymount at Navan on Monday, a close game ending in a win for the visitors by 6 runs. The County side had first use of a tricky wicket, and thanks mainly to a good innings of 42 by J. Pollock reached a total of 69. Sandymount made a fair start, the third wicket falling at 45, but a rot then set in, and 9 runs were still required when the seventh wicket fell, but the eighth wicket saw the home total passed, but all were out for 75. J. Pollock came out with the best analysis, taking 4 wickets for 21 runs, and Campbell had 4 for 37, and Ratty 2 for 15. Score:—

YACHTING.

ROYAL HARWICH YACHT CLUB.

The programme of this club's regatta, postponed from Saturday, was carried through yesterday. The weather was fine, but the wind was variable both in strength and direction, and the Committee stopped the yachts on the completion of the first round. The breeze early in the day came from the north, but there was little strength in it, and soon after the start it died away almost to nothing. Later it came from the west and south with more strength. The big class sailed on level terms. The weather suited Shamrock, and she won comfortably, and Lulworth performed excellently to get second, beating Britannia by a good margin. White Heather did not start. June won in her class, and in the 12-metre class the winner was Clymene, with Noresca second.

Race for Yachts over 110 tons. First prize £60, second prize £25.

Entries:—Britannia, 221 tons, His Majesty the King; Lulworth, 186 tons, Mr. H. Weld; Shamrock, 175 tons, Sir T. Lipton, Bart.; White Heather, 179 tons, Lord Waring. Start 10.45. Course—To Cork Light, lower rough buoy to S.W. Bawdsey buoy and back to starting line—41 miles.

White Heather did not start, as she left the port for some alterations to sails. Britannia made a well judged start and led over the line as the gun was fired, then came Lulworth and Shamrock close up. Britannia tried a spinnaker for a minute or two, but the wind becoming more westerly, they had to close-haul on the starboard tack to beach end, where Shamrock was leading Lulworth by 4 min. and Britannia by 2 mins. 40 secs. The breeze was now very light, and as they reached to the Cork they were close together, Britannia being away in second place. Shamrock and Lulworth reached away for the lower rough buoy on one tack, but Britannia had to make a short hitch before rounding. On this leg of the course Lulworth passed Britannia to windward, and afterwards sailed right away from her. From the rough buoy to the Bawdsey buoy was a run with spinnakers. After rounding the last-named mark sheets were hauled for a reach on the port tack to beach end. Coming into the harbour spinnakers were hoisted to port, and the finish was:—

	H. M. S.
Shamrock (winner)	2 17 43
Lulworth (second prize)	2 21 56
Britannia	2 36 3

Handicap for Yachts over 30 tons and not exceeding 110 tons.

Entries:—Rendezvous, 74 tons, Sir W. Burton (scr.); June, 56 tons, Sir H. Frank (3 mins. 52 secs.); Thanet, 42 tons, Mr. J. W. Cook (7 mins. 15 secs.). Start 11 a.m. Course—29 miles.

The finish was:—

	H. M. S.
June (winner)	2 42 12
Rendezvous (second prize)	2 46 8
Thanet	2 51 5

Race for Yachts of the 12-metre class. Start 11.15. Course—24 miles.

The finish was:—

	H. M. S.
Clymene (winner)	1 36 50
Noresca (second prize)	1 38 50
Vanity	1 40 20

R.A.Y.C. SMALL CRUISERS LAMBAY RACE.

The starters in this match on Monday experienced varied descriptions of weather before they finished between Howth Piers on the same afternoon. The morning was promising at Kingstown, but rain squalls were showing up in the westerly breeze, and only Klysma and Barbara were sporting jackyard topsails when they were sent away to a good start at 11.10 a.m., Klysma leading Barbara, Lil, Eileen, Sheila II. over the line. As they cleared harbour spinnakers were set to port, and reaching free the Roebeg was made by the leaders, Klysma, Barbara and Sheila II., in about 45 minutes. Spinnakers came off in a heavy squall off the Bailey, and after that the wind softened as they reached for Lambay. Nearing the easterly point of the island the position was unchanged, but baffling winds were met, and the flood tide carried Klysma well north of Lambay. Then a spell of calm, and next a very heavy hailstorm—the first of a series of such—came out of the west and the boats were heavily pressed for a time. In the weather which followed, calms interspersed by hail showers, the yachts got well scattered, Barbara off the Burren Rocks, Sheila II. off the Tayleur Perch, Klysma carried by the tide nearly to Rush Point, and Eileen and Lil (which had passed and repassed each other several times) off the N.E. point of the island. The last hail squall brought up a freshening breeze from the west which carried Barbara and Sheila II. along well, but the sternmost boats did not pick up this wind for some time, and naturally there was a scattered finish at Howth pierheads. The timing was:—

	H'cap.	H. M. S.
Barbara (winner), Mr. A. Richardson	6m.	4 39 30
Sheila II. (2nd), Mr. P. T. Walsh	6m.	5 0 0
Klysma, Mr. C. O'Loughlaine	scr.	5 9 30
Eileen, Mr. J. A. Magnurn	45m.	6 16 45
Lil, Mr. Douglas Mellon	15m.	6 34 0

Mr. J. Stephens was officer of the day.

Cecil O'Connor, 25 Elmville terrace, South Circular road, and Patrick Harrison, Terenure park, were each fined 10s. and costs.

PROFESSIONAL AND AMATEUR.

The Royal and Ancient Golf Club has not entertained the application of Fred. Mackenzie, of St. Andrew's, for reinstatement as an amateur. Mackenzie played for Scotland against England in the amateur international on several occasions, and in 1903 won the unofficial Scottish Amateur Championship. He went to America in 1903 for a few months, and was a professional to a club there. He gave up professionalism and returned to his business in St. Andrew's in 1904, and has been there ever since. For the past 20 years Mackenzie has played in the local club competitions at St. Andrew's as an amateur, but he cannot take part in open amateur competitive golf unless as a professional.

BOXING.

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY NOVICES' TOURNAMENT.

Dublin University held their annual Novices' tournament last night in the Gymnasium, Trinity College. The hall was but sparsely filled, but the contests ruled quite interesting, and the form displayed showed that Trinity are possessed of much good talent.

McMahon, the winner of the Middle-Weights, can use both hands to good advantage, while Lyburn, who won the Light-Weight contest, is very clever with his left, and displays good footwork. Tolkin always predominated the Middle-Weights, and in the final with Walsh he proved much too good for a plucky opponent. Details:—

MIDDLE-WEIGHTS.

S. Cox beat C. H. Adderley.—Both men were wild, but Cox had a good left and used it to advantage on a couple of occasions. Adderley avoided punishment in clever style, but Cox gained a well-deserved verdict.

T. E. McMahon beat G. Graham.—Graham, who displayed a useful style, was the aggressor, but failed to make use of his opportunities. McMahon showed much cleverness, and using the left to good advantage was a clear winner.

FINAL.

McMahon beat Cox.—McMahon proved much too good for Cox, and using both left and right to good advantage was a most decisive winner.

LIGHT-WEIGHTS.

E. J. Weinberger beat W. R. Johnstone.—Weinberger was the cleverer boxer from the outset, and though Johnstone fought back pluckily Weinberger had much the better of the round. The latter used his right well in the second round, and punished Johnstone severely before the referee stopped the contest and gave the verdict to Weinberger.

H. St. John Lyburn got a bye, and fought a stiff three rounds with E. B. Solomons. The former used a good right, and had the better of the bout.

FINAL.

Lyburn beat E. J. Weinberger.—This was a one-sided bout. Lyburn was much too clever, and had Weinberger in difficulties from early on. Using a very good left to advantage Lyburn won on points.

WELTER-WEIGHT.

L. Tolkin beat F. Bailey.—Tolkin had the advantage of height and reach, and at the end of three good rounds got a well deserved verdict.

S. B. Weinberger beat T. F. Woods.—This was a lively bout. Both men displayed little science, but Weinberger, showing more cleverness and using a good right, gained the verdict.

R. A. Barrett, getting a bye, fought three good rounds with D. H. Cassidy. Barrett has quite a useful right.

H. D. Walsh boxed a bye with D. H. Cassidy. Walsh has a very useful left and gives much promise.

SEMI-FINALS.

L. Tolkin beat R. A. Barrett.—Tolkin proved much too clever and had Barrett in trouble early in the opening round. Tolkin was an easy winner on points.

H. D. Walsh beat S. B. Weinberger.—Weinberger had the better of the opening round, and Walsh went to his corner groggy. Coming up fresh for the second round, however, Walsh, using a smart right, sent Weinberger down twice before the towel was thrown in.

FINAL.

Tolkin beat Walsh.—Tolkin's left was much too good for Walsh, and though the latter fought back pluckily, he was well outpointed.

CRUISER-WEIGHT.

J. W. Johnstone beat R. C. Brown.—Johnstone proved much too clever for Brown, who showed very little knowledge of the game, and the latter was well beaten when the judges gave their decision.

The following will represent Dublin University against University College in the annual Inter-Varsity contest to be held on Saturday, June 13th:—

MOTOR CAR AND TRAP COLLIDE.

Mrs. O'Mara, of Bridge street, Waterford, narrowly escaped serious injury in a collision between a motor car and a pony trap, in which she was driving with her daughter, Mrs. Smith, in County Waterford, on Monday evening. The driver of Mrs. O'Mara's trap had pulled it in to one side of the road in order that a motor car moving in the opposite direction might pass it. A second motor car, which tried to pass between the two vehicles, collided with and wrecked the trap, whose occupants were thrown to the road. The pony fell, rolled over against Mrs. O'Mara and stunned her. The driver of the trap, however, reached the pony's head, and sitting on it prevented the animal from injuring Mrs. O'Mara.
